

State Relief Proposals Up Next Week at Joint Hearing

No Unified Opposition Apparent to LaFollette Proposals

SPEED STILL GOAL

Further Measures Due if Legislature Moves Promptly

Madison—(U)—Three legislative committees will hold a joint hearing next Monday afternoon on Governor LaFollette's $3,000,000 relief bill.

The special session convened yesterday, completed organization late in the day, heard a brief message from the governor and adjourned until Monday morning.

After an early dispute over special rules for the session, both houses settled the question amicably, and apparently there will be no concerted opposition to the relief bill or another administration measure which revises procedure in assessment of back income taxes.

Under the new rules the bills may be reported back to the houses Tuesday and perhaps passed the same day.

Governor LaFollette has said he will submit further legislation through an amended call if the lawmakers dispose of the two bills promptly. The governor's office has been working on a farm program for possible submission to the session.

San Advice to Congress

The senate and assembly finally agreed to ban resolutions except those regarding procedure; decided joint hearings on each bill should be held no sooner than two days after introduction, and that committees should report bills within two days after hearings.

If the governor amends his call, the legislators will have five days in which to introduce bills on any new subject.

Threat of a Fight by Democrats on organization and procedure in the assembly subsided after Speaker Paul Alfonsi (P), Pence, gave the party representation on the joint finance committee. He named Assemblyman Robert Tehan (D), Milwaukee, to succeed Assemblyman A. J. Baker (P), Mt. Horeb, who resigned to make a place for Tehan.

The relief measure appropriates all revenues, not to exceed $3,000,000, from extension of inheritance and gift taxes, to the industrial commission or any other agency the governor designates to handle relief, whenever the emergency board releases the money.

Tax Provisions

The tax provisions increase the present 25 per cent surtax on inheritances to 30 per cent, eliminating a $100 exemption; place a 30 per cent surtax on gift transfers of property, and extend these levies until July 1, 1941. The relief appropriation will be paid from a general fund, which will be replenished as the taxes are paid in the next four years.

Also included in the bill is an immediate appropriation of $500,000 from the highway fund for marking of roads in a safety campaign, and an annual appropriation of $750,000 beginning in 1938 for the same purpose. The regular session of the legislature had set the figure at $150,000 annually.

The income tax bill, drafted at the request of the tax commission, revises the statutes to make sure no present cases of assessment of back taxes will be barred by the statute of limitations, preventing recovery after six years, had been invoked in a recent court decision.

Short Session Aim

Committees hearing these bills are the joint finance committee, the senate education and public welfare committee and the assembly committee on public welfare.

Governor LaFollette's message states legislators with whom he had conferred agreed that a short session was in the best interests of the public.

Although he limited the initial call to relief and tax revision, the governor said:

"There are other important matters that it would be desirable to act upon, but there would be no purpose in including them in the session."

Modern Woman Is Alert for Ideas To Develop Charm

Janette Serree to Offer Variety of Suggestions At School Here

The sleeping beauty was all right in fairy tale times, but today's beauties had better be wide awake, declares Janette Serree, who will conduct the Appleton Post-Crescent charm school at 8 o'clock next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings at Castle hall. Beauty of the fairy tale type, bestowed by a godmother at birth, has been entirely discarded in the modern version of charm. Today it is not, it is developed.

Even the girl who has beauty of face and form can't sleep, for if she does she will lose that beauty. The modern woman is wide awake and alert to new ideas for preserving her loveliness and cultivating real charm. And the charm school exists to present these new ideas to seekers after charm.

The school invites women of all ages and all types to rub their eyes and bestir themselves, and to listen to ways and means of making themselves charming people. Diction, etiquette, overcoming timidity and self-consciousness, weight reduction, body building, dietetics and an entire program of self-improvement will be included in Miss Serree's instruction.

A style show will be given in connection with the lectures each evening, with fall fashions from the Pettibone-Peabody company, furs from F. J. Grist and riding habits from the Hughes Clothing store. The Meyer-Seeger Music company will provide the piano which a local artist will play each evening.

Forced to Quit, Shafroth States

Former Federal Lawyer Says He Refused to Act In Tax Investigation

Washington—(U)—Morrison Shafroth said today he had been forced out of his position as chief counsel of the internal revenue bureau because he refused to join in the recent investigation of tax avoidance and evasion.

Shortly after Shafroth's resignation had been announced by Secretary Morgenthau, Shafroth issued a brief statement saying that he and his assistant, Russell J. Ryan, had been given "the choice of participating in the presentation of the names of alleged tax evaders and avoiders or resigning."

As a result, Shafroth said, "we tendered our resignations on the 28th of June, 1937."

The investigation into tax evasion and avoidance brought a parade of names high in the financial, theatrical and social worlds before a joint senate-house inquiry committee.

Shafroth, a Denver lawyer, was chosen for the chief counsel's post upon Secretary Morgenthau's personal recommendations last December.

Morgenthau, in announcing Shafroth's resignation, said the chief counsel had disagreed with "general treasury policies."

Primary May Decide Fate Of Tammany

New York Election to Have Important Bearing on Major Parties

VIOLENCE REPORTED FLEETS IN REGION

Three Major Candidates Entered in Mayoralty Fight at Polls

New York—(U)—Tammany's fate as a political force may be determined today by the vote of 1,000,000 enrolled Republicans and Democrats in a mayoralty primary contest of extraordinary bitterness.

The outcome of their election may also have far-reaching impact on national interest in both major parties.

Primary bitterness brought violence before dawn, when a mob wrecked a lower east side drug store owned by Benjamin Brown, assembly candidate, who is involved in a bitter district fight between rival Tammany factions.

This was the second outbreak in the district, four men armed with axes, knives and pistols having wrecked a bar owned by a participant last Monday.

There are three major candidates:

Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, fusion, pro-New Deal incumbent, is a candidate for the Republican nomination. His opponent is United States Senator Royal S. Copeland, writer and radio talker on medical subjects, foe of many New Deal policies.

Runs on 2 Tickets

Senator Copeland is also, as the designer of Tammany, a candidate for the Democratic nomination, where his only opponent is Jeremiah T. Mahoney, president of the A. A. U., choice of the four pro-New Deal Democratic borough leaders of the city (Tammany is restricted to Manhattan).

Norman Thomas is unopposed for the socialist nomination.

A last minute development was the sudden growth, admittedly in Tammany stronghold, of a movement to write in LaGuardia's name on the Democratic ballots.

Former Governor Alfred E. Smith

in the windup speech in behalf of Copeland contented himself with an attack on the LaGuardia administration for "high taxes" but made no mention of the Ku Klux Klan. Copeland campaign headquarters had no such intention.

A crushing Tammany defeat in this election in view of some political experts might mean the end of Tammany. In the last hundred years or so since Tammany first gained political control of the city, the tiger has lost it about once in a generation to a "reform" mayor.

LaGuardia, swept in on the heels of the Seabury investigation, was such a mayor. The past, however, Tammany has merely bided her time, for no "reform" mayor has lasted more than one term. If LaGuardia is reelected he will set a record.

Couple Is Killed When Train Hits Automobile

Milwaukee—(U)—Walter P. Herbold, 43, and Mrs. Anna Ruplinger, 53, were killed last night when a Milwaukee road train hit their automobile at a grade crossing in the town of Granville.

George Persons, engineer of the train, said the automobile appeared to be stalled on the crossing, and that the car seemed to back up along the right-of-way toward the train when he blew the locomotive whistle.

The automobile was carried about 450 feet.

Stockton Man Is Killed In Automobile Accident

Stevens Point—(U)—Edward Iwan-ski of Stockton was killed at 6 o'clock this morning on a county trunk road one and one-half miles west of Amherst while standing in the road when struck by a car driven by Joe Kubisiak, son of Sheriff John P. Kubisiak. Iwanski's car had come in the ditch during the night and was about to be towed back on the road at the time of the accident. The body was pronounced dead after being taken to an Amherst doctor. An inquest will be held.

American Legion Planning Campaign Against "Junking" Men of Over 40

New York—(U)—American Legion headquarters today announced a concerted campaign against the "junking" of men over 40 in the nation's employment scheme.

The plans were disclosed by Forrest G. Cooper, Indiana, Miss., chairman of the national veterans' employment committee, and will be debated before the annual legion convention here next week.

The legion will furnish "every employer in the United States" a booklet showing "the economic value in terms of maturity of judgment, ability, and dependability of World War veterans," Cooper said.

Pointing out that most of the nation's 4,000,000 World War veterans are in the age groups above 40, Cooper said the legion "believes it is unfair to junk a man, to call him obsolete to say he is not needed, when he passes the age of 40."

"This battle," said Cooper, "will be waged unceasingly until industry recognizes the fallacy of discrimination against a worker in the very prime of his usefulness."

The business sessions of the American Legion convention opened here Sunday night with a comparatively peaceful, with a minimum of controversial issues to be debated. It was indicated today by an inspection of more than 600 resolutions received at national headquarters.

Not one of the 600-odd resolutions from state departments, concerned a proposal for a general pension for World War veterans. Demands for "government protection" for widows and orphans of these veterans.

Principal resolutions expected to be approved support the legion-sponsored universal draft law, now before the national house of representatives, an increased child welfare program, and a strengthened Americanism program emphasizing the need for national youth training.

League Invites U.S. to Share in Deliberations On Warfare in Far East

Says New Justice Has Qualified for High Court Duties

Clerk Discloses Black Has Met Legal Requirements for Job

Washington—(U)—Charles E. Cropley, clerk of the supreme court, disclosed today that Hugo L. Black, already has complied with the legal requirements of becoming a supreme court justice by taking a dual oath.

When Black on Aug. 19 pledged to uphold the constitution in taking the oath of office before C. F. Pace, senate financial clerk, Cropley said, he also subscribed to a printed department of justice form for use of federal judges.

It contains besides the constitutional oath one pledging impartial administration of justice, and has been filed with the justice department.

Cropley added, however, that he assumed Justice Black will repeat the second oath at the bench when the supreme court begins its fall term on Oct. 4.

"It is always done," he said, "it is not a question of legal compliance but of custom."

TO HEAD MEDICS

Dr. A. E. Rector of Appleton to take office in 1938 as president of the State Medical Society of Wisconsin. He was elected today at the Milwaukee convention. Milwaukee again will be the host city next year.

Dr. A. E. Rector Is President-Elect Of State Medics

Appleton Doctor Will Not Take Office Until Next Year

Milwaukee—(U)—The State Medical Society of Wisconsin today chose Dr. A. E. Rector of Appleton as president-elect and decided to convene again in Milwaukee in 1938.

Dr. Rector does not take office until next year. This year's incoming president is Dr. James C. Sargent of the Marquette University School of Medicine who tomorrow succeeds Dr. Stephen E. Gavin, Fond du Lac.

The society's house of delegates chose Dr. Henry J. Gramling, Milwaukee, as the new speaker to succeed Dr. Rector, and named J. Newton Sisk, Madison, vice speaker. Dr. Joseph F. Smith of Wausau and Dr. C. W. Giese, Superior, were reelected delegate and alternate, respectively, to the American Medical Association.

The society auxiliary named Mrs.

Robert E. Fitzgerald, Wausau, president-elect. Other officers, who assume their duties at once, are: Mrs. Arthur McCarey, Green Bay, treasurer, and Mrs. W. T. Brinkerhoff, Beloit, secretary.

Wars on Accidents

Dr. Sargent told leaders to the annual convention today those in the field of public health should give increasing attention to the toll of highway accidents.

"When we think of public health work, we think largely in terms of contagious disease," Dr. Sargent said. "Yet add together all these dreadful diseases and they hardly equal the automobile in the numbers they kill each year here in Wisconsin."

The number of fatalities is not the only part of the problem, Dr. Sargent added. "For every automobile death there are 10 other people painfully injured; many horribly and hopelessly maimed for life. It is that not a real public health challenge."

As an accident preventive, Dr.

Sargent recommended use of mechanical governors to reduce car speeds. "Such a device, crude and imperfect, was placed on 20,000 CCC camp trucks and the accident rate dropped full 30 per cent," he said.

Start Unloading Planes From American Vessel

San Pedro, Calif.—(U)—Twelve

bombing planes from the Chicago-bound freighter Wichita to a 30-ton barge in the outer harbor today.

What disposition would be made of the planes—whether they would be stored or loaded on another ship—remained undecided.

The Wichita's dropped anchor in the roadstead just inside the breakwater and several miles from port last night. A fueling barge was tied last night but whether the vessel had been refused to continue its journey from New York was not learned.

Menasha Plant Rehearing Scheduled for Sept. 29

Madison—(U)—The public hearing on the Menasha municipal electric plant to install additional steam generating equipment.

The Wisconsin Michigan Power company asked the rehearing on the grounds the commission exceeded its power in permitting the municipal utility to expand its capacity to serve larger customers.

Authorization for a $260,000 steam generating plant of 2,000 kilowatts or a $150,000 plant generating 3,500 kilowatts, depending upon size, was granted the city.

August Worst Month For Traffic Accidents

Milwaukee—(U)—The state highway department reported today last August was the deadliest month in Wisconsin's motoring history. One hundred persons were killed in traffic accidents, compared to the previous high of 93 recorded in October, 1936.

Dr. A. E. Rector of Appleton to take office in 1938 as president of the State Medical Society of Wisconsin. He was elected today at the Milwaukee convention. Milwaukee again will be the host city next year.

No Early Action at Geneva on Sanctions Against Japan

APPEAL IS SHELVED

Hull Hopes America Can Help Halt Armament Race

Geneva—(U)—The League of Nations council put China's appeal against Japanese aggression in the hands of a revived advisory committee today and asked the United States to take part in its deliberations.

Quick dispatch of invitations to Washington and 22 other capitals made it certain that the United States must soon decide if she will cooperate with the committee, on which her representative formerly served.

By its action the league also pushed into the background any question of sanctions against Japan—at least for a time. With China's conditional approval, the council shelved her appeal under the Covenant Article XVII—the sanctions section.

The committee which will now hear the protest may ask both Japan and China to state their cases—something Japan is not likely to do. She has made it plain she will ignore any league mediation whatsoever in her undeclared war in the east.

Action Still Possible

Despite the apparent shelving of actual league sanctions, committee members will be empowered to recommend to their respective governments such matters as suspension of credits to the aggressor and the stoppage of arms shipments.

This committee was created in 1933 as a result of Japan's seizure of Manchuria, a conquest the league failed to stop. There was an American consultative member then.

The potential participation of the United States in the revived committee's deliberations thus became a matter of the most vital importance here.

Today's action was taken in private council session after the members had decided to take up quickly the Spanish government's protest against the sinking of her merchant ships "by Italy."

Dr. Wellington Koo, the Chinese envoy, accepted the council's decision but he reserved the right to appeal again to the council direct and to invoke Article XVII of the covenant if he feels it necessary.

If Article XVII were invoked,

Japan, a league non-member, would be asked to sit temporarily in the council and answer China's charges that she is an aggressor.

The advisory committee will meet shortly after the election of new members to the council, which is set for next Monday.

HULL'S STATEMENT

Washington—(U)—Secretary Hull

has conveyed to foreign governments his hope that the United States can share leadership of a movement to halt the world armament race "when and if" an agreement appears possible.

The disclosure today by publication of Hull's statements sent recently to all diplomatic and consular agents in a new effort by the secretary of state to promote world peace through international economic rehabilitation.

The circular suggested that the department's representatives make every effort to impress America's economic policies on foreign officials and stress the importance of adoption by individual countries of a similar program.

State department officials said they had received no communication from the League of Nations concerning possible United States participation in a proposed revival of the "advisory committee" to consider the Sino-Japanese crisis.

Pope Warns Church Leaders in Germany Against Overt Acts

Castel Gandolfo, Italy—(U)—Pope

Pius XI cautioned the German hierarchy today to refrain from any overt act that would precipitate a worse church-state conflict in the Nazi realm.

His message was given to Monsignor Cesare Orsenigo, the papal nuncio to Germany, the course of a long audience at the holy father's summer villa here.

The audience followed closely upon an editorial attack on German neo-paganism by Osservatore Romano, the Vatican newspaper. Observers predicted that this announcement might lead to the shedding of priests' blood, as it did in Spain.

This editorial was accepted as an authoritative revelation of the feelings of princes of the church. Yet the holy father's instructions to German prelates today made it just as clear that the pontiff wants these feelings kept in leash.

In other words, Pope Pius wants no action by any German cleric which would give the Nazis an excuse to provoke trouble.

Valley Lawmakers Give Relief Plan Chilly Reception

Governor Won't Get Much Help From Fox Valley Legislators

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau Madison—While neither house of the legislature yesterday in the first day of the special session gave any signs that Governor LaFollette's often repeated wish for a short meeting will be respected, the attitude of Fox river valley and northeastern Wisconsin assemblymen and senators on the idea of being called back to the second meeting in a year can be described as something less than enthusiastic. Despite explicit orders from the executive office, and the presence of Thomas Duncan, the LaFollette legislative emissary in the chambers, administration forces yesterday were helpless to prevent a repetition of the wrangling and bickering which adjourned the regular session in confusion three months ago.

Get Little Help Most of the legislators, and especially administration opponents, had speeches in their systems, and lost no time in getting rid of them. In the meantime comments of the majority of the representatives from the northeastern counties gave rise to the prophecy that the governor can expect little help for his program from that quarter.

Most of them are fully aware that the $3,000,000 relief bill which they will be expected to approve, already drafted and ready for presentation, will bring very little money into their home territories, for the Fox river valley, together with southern and eastern Wisconsin, has been carrying its own relief load with relatively little difficulty. They are conscious too that the benefits of the relief appropriation would go to the northern counties, while the more prosperous districts, including their own, will pay the largest share of the bill.

Assemblyman Harold A. Lytle of Green Bay, William J. Sweeney of De Pere, and Albert D. Shimek of Kewaunee, all Democrats, were forthright in their declarations that the appropriation proposed by the governor is too large, and that if the state must appropriate money for relief, local units of government, who are of necessity most familiar with their own problems, should be entrusted with its administration and expenditure. Lytle, in a letter to the governor two weeks ago, declared that a relief session is not necessary, that Brown county is fully capable of carrying its own load.

Mack Expresses Views Henry Hupfaut, also a Democrat, and lower house representative of Calumet county also expressed disapproval of continued state administration of relief, while Senator Mike Mack, Shiocton Republican, declared that he would prefer a distribution of relief funds to the state on the basis of local relief loads, so that his area would share in the benefits to some extent at least.

Assemblyman William Rohan, Outagamie county Democrat, also said that he would like a reversion to complete local administration of relief. The attitude of Assemblyman Mark Catlin, Appleton Republican, toward the special session was made clear in his remarks in the assembly Wednesday. Catlin took the lead in the opposition's efforts to lay obstacles across the path of Governor LaFollette's attempt to obtain adoption of rules which purportedly would expedite legislative business.

Catlin, supposed to be one of the leading proponents of a Republican Democratic coalition against the LaFollette party, declaimed vigorously against the "dictatorial tactics" of the administration.

Seasoned observers in legislative halls predicted on the basis of preliminary showings in yesterday's sessions that Governor LaFollette will have his hands and his time completely occupied during the session in meeting the strategy of the Republican and Democratic opposition, who are likely to use the opportunity as the starting gun in what may yet develop into a concerted campaign to unseat him and his administration in next year's elections.

Cling to Ethics, Doctors are Urged

Medical Principles Have Stood Test of Time, Dr. Abell Asserts

Milwaukee (U)—Dr. Irvin Abell of Louisville, Ky., president-elect of the American Medical association, called upon the medical profession to stand fast by its traditional principles in an address last night to the Wisconsin State Medical society's annual meeting.

He said that although medical ethics have been criticized as obsolete and antiquated, they have stood the test of time. He stressed the necessity of educating the public through the press, radio, platform and other channels. Councillors named by the state society's house of delegates included: Dr. Joseph Dean, Madison, reelected; Dr. B. I. Pippin, Richland Center; Dr. A. H. Heidner, West Bend; Dr. Stephen E. Gavin, Fond du Lac; and Dr. H. P. Bowen, Watertown.

In an interview Dr. Abell said the A. M. A. had not passed judgment on the moral or sociological aspects of birth control but merely permits the individual physicians, after proper consultation, to recommend therapeutic abortion or contraceptives only when required to preserve health or save a life. "It is only within the last year or so that federal laws have sanctioned this," Dr. Abell stated, "and the association takes this step to allow the physician to act according to his judgment and conscience."

Clergymen Write Book on History of Clintonville

Joining the list of books which have been written recently about Wisconsin and the Fox river valley but the first to cover its particular locality is "History of Clintonville, Wisconsin" by the Rev. Nicholas D. Diederich of Clintonville and the Rev. John Britten Gehl of Denmark with an index by the Rt. Rev. Joseph Baum Marx of Green Bay. Father Diederich is pastor of St. Rose Catholic church in Clintonville.

The dedicatory paragraph reads as follows: "To the spirit of self-help and self-reliance of the Clintonville pioneers who with their own resources of brain and brawn, with axe and plow, changed the face of the earth of Clintonville into a proper home for them and their children ever after them; and whose example serves as a lesson in a present-day whining and pulling world, this book is dedicated." The reason which motivated the authors to write this history, as set forth in the preface, were the desire to inculcate a knowledge and love for the history of Clintonville, and consequently a feeling of patriotism.

The naming of Waupaca after Chief Waupaca, a Potawatomi Indian of the Bald Eagle clan, a brief biography of William F. Maxfield, Clintonville's first landowner, and the city's founders of the city, as well as Urial P. Clinton after whom the city was named are given in the opening pages of the book.

Describe Growth The growth of the city from a wilderness to the home of the nationally famous Four Wheel Drive Auto company is described in detail. In a chapter on the social and cultural life of the community, the various churches, schools, newspapers and public buildings are mentioned with a short history of each.

Clintonville's part in the Civil, Spanish-American and World wars is related in another section, and still other chapters deal with various phases of community life from earliest times.

There is an appendix to the book which gives some idea of the amount of research which was necessary to compile a volume of this kind, and which gives a roster of city officials, school officials, lodges and other organizations. The appendix also lists the men from Clintonville and vicinity who served in the World war, and gives a business directory of the city of Clintonville, listing professional people and business places and industries.

A large number of illustrations brighten up the book and make it interesting not only for people who know the persons and places pictured, but also for the stranger as it gives an idea of the growth of the city from a wilderness to a thriving industrial and dairying community.

High Government Costs to Continue, Kiwanis Club Told

Food Prices Loaded With Hidden Taxes, Lawrence Professor Says

"We are definitely committed to higher costs in the administration of federal government," Lawrence W. Towle, associate professor of economics at Lawrence college told members of the Appleton Kiwanis club at a luncheon meeting Wednesday noon at the Hotel Appleton.

"Taxes are increasing at a prodigious rate," the professor said. "When we go to market, prices we pay for food and other commodities are loaded with hidden taxes. About 40 per cent of federal money comes from excise taxes which are paid indirectly by the consumer."

The reasons for the increase in taxes at this time, the speaker declared, are the New Deal program of relief, WPA and PWA programs and others. He explained the difference in public and private finance and said, "In public finance, spending is not regulated by income but income is regulated by expenditure. Private budgets are usually regulated by income while in public finance expenditure is the basis of income. The national budget has increased from a half billion dollars in 1903 to 7 1/2 billions in 1935."

Many Factors Involved Added expenditures have been due mainly to the increase in population and the rise in price levels together with the increased service the public is now getting from the government. If highways are better, there is a more efficient school system, more money is being spent for general health and sanitation than in the early part of the century. War also enters very strongly in the increase in the budget, he said.

"When there is a sharp increase in the national budget, as at the time of the world war," Professor Towle said, "Expenditures never fall to their previous level. Before the war the national budget was about three quarters of a billion dollars while after the war, it was raised to about 3 1/2 billions. The same theory probably will work out in the present situation. The national budget will orient itself at about six billion dollars."

Professor Towle also talked on the system of tax collection on the theory that every man should be taxed according to his ability to pay. He favored a sales tax in preference to real estate and income taxes because that type of tax reaches more people and makes people realize that they are paying taxes.

Progressives Like Proposal for State Commerce Department

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau Madison—Amendment of the governor's call for a special legislative session to provide for the creation of a department of commerce within the state industrial commission, which will function for Wisconsin industry in a manner comparable to the work of the department of agriculture and markets board for industrial labor, will be one of the chief aims of Senator Michael F. Kresky, Green Bay Progressive, during the special meeting, he indicated here.

Kresky praised the plan for the state department of commerce, which will be presented to the legislature during the special term by the governor if that body disposes of other matters quickly enough to suit him.

Progressives have hinted that the department of commerce as planned by the chief executive is his answer to the charge frequently made that LaFollette administration activities are driving industry out of Wisconsin into states with more favorable policies.

The gymnasium will open for senior members next Monday night. Risch said today, and the gym schedule of classes will be announced soon. The handball courts are now in use.

Here's What to Do if You Cannot Remember Names

1. If you are a chronic forgetter and being introduced to a new acquaintance, look the person in the eye and repeat his name immediately with emphasis.
2. If you have a strong memory—as mine-tenths of us have—but it's temporarily inhibited, stop trying so intensely to remember the elusive name. It's more likely to come if you relax and think of something else.
3. If your memory really has grown weak, try to recapture the name by associating it with surrounding conditions.

This is the system of Dr. George W. Hartmann, a professor of educational psychology at Columbia University's Teachers' College in New York City.

Most cases are covered by No. 2. Chronic forgetters are rare. Mostly they're in the same situation as the college professor who has to forget the names of former students because others have come to take their places. It's not a matter of bad memory. Dr. Hartmann calls it knowing what to forget. And that's permissible.

You can't separate memory from learning, he says. Memory fails where learning has been inadequate. That's why it's important to repeat the name of the person you're meeting. The more sensory channels you can employ in association with that name, the better. See how it looks on paper. Say it out loud.

People who never slip up on a name, says the professor, are either good learners—or they're interested in people. A combination of the two is unbeatable.

Handrich Believes Farmers Might Want Relief During Winter

Madison—Alvin A. Handrich, Manawa, Progressive Waupaca county assemblyman, declared here yesterday that many Wisconsin farmers this winter will be clamoring to participate in the benefits of the relief program which the legislature has been called back to Madison to enact.

Handrich, whose principal interest in three terms in the lower house has been farm problems, said that farmers are not enjoying a proportionate share of returning prosperity. Currently, Waupaca county's relief problem is not acute, the assemblyman said, echoing the statement of the county's representative in the state senate, H. J. Severson of Dodge, who recently declared that there apparently is no need for a relief session because farmers are unable to get help on their farms.

In the regular 1937 session of the legislature, Handrich was the author of a resolution investigating the profits of the dairy "middleman", and produced figures purporting to show that state dairy farmers early this year were producing milk for less than cost.

Assessments Supervisor May Get New Quarters

New quarters in the Manitowoc courthouse may be provided for Arthur Schneider, supervisor of assessments for this district. The Manitowoc county board of public building and improvement committee plans to ask a WPA project for the improvements necessary to remodel the old assembly room where the supervisor's quarters may be located. Estimated cost of the improvement is about $3,000.

Junior Highs Will Plant Trees for Constitution Day

Arrange Programs to Accompany Planting Ceremonies

A constitution tree will be planted Friday at each of the Appleton Junior High schools in commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the constitution of the United States, school authorities said today. Programs are being planned at Wilson, Roosevelt and McKinley Junior High schools to include patriotic songs, speeches, recitations and tree planting ceremonies. The program at Wilson school will be held on the campus at 11 o'clock in the morning. McKinley school program will be held at 8:30 and 11:30 in the morning and the program at Roosevelt school will be held at 1:15 in the afternoon.

John Lonsdorf, Appleton attorney, will speak at the Wilson and Roosevelt school programs and Dr. Carl Neidhold will address pupils at the McKinley school. Both will speak in the significance of the constitution.

Following is the Wilson school program: singing of "America" by the group; reading of President Roosevelt's proclamation, William DeLong; recitation, preamble of the constitution, Donald Bell; a short history of the constitution, Joseph Merkes; address, Mr. Lonsdorf; tree planting ceremony with explanation by Donald Newton; "Star Spangled Banner," led by Kenneth Schilling.

The tree planting ceremony will be held at 8:30 Friday morning at the McKinley school and Dr. Neidhold will speak at 11:30. John Powers will give the preamble to the constitution and Mary Louise Wiegand will present "Our Constitution has a Birthday." Patriotic songs will be sung by the pupils and a short history of the constitution will be presented.

The program at the Roosevelt school will open with the "Star Spangled Banner" which will be followed by the salute to the flag. Patriotic singing will follow and then the reading of the president's proclamation and the history of the constitution. The group will then adjourn to the grounds where the tree planting ceremony will take place under the direction of the Junior Isaac Walton league which will have charge at all schools. Pupils will then sing "America" directed by Kenneth Schilling.

Believes Senate Vote Today Would Be Against Black

Klan Issue Would Prevent Ratification, Lawrence Says

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington—Not only the Catholics, Jews and Negroes of America are directly concerned about the charge that President Roosevelt has put a klanman on the supreme court of the United States, but so also are all the foreign-born.

The Ku Klux Klan, as a source of religious and racial antagonism, but as the secret plotter against all those engaging in business, large or small, who have come to America from foreign shores, is being revived today, but in 1924, when the opposition to the Klan was at its height, the Democratic party was torn asunder by issues arising from the Klan's activities.

Thus, in the Democratic National convention of 1924, a plank denouncing the Klan in specific instead of abstract terms was defeated by a vote of 542 to 541. Many impassioned speeches were made, and it is interesting to reproduce a typical utterance, such as that of Mrs. Carroll Miller of Pennsylvania, a sister of Senator Guffey and Democratic national committeewoman from the Keystone state. She said:

"As you know, I am a protestant, but this issue is not an issue between Catholics, Jews and foreign-born on one side and Protestants on the other, but it is an issue between free Americans on one side and a vicious un-American organization on the other, the members of which, regardless of their professed religious views, are in no conceivable sense Christians.

"What would you, my friends, think of a home in America where the little children shuddered nightly in terrorizing fear of the hooded Ku Klux Klan? Oh, there are such places, hundreds of them, where citizens who are guaranteed life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness by the constitution are denied these essential attributes of a free life, places where a foreign-born is discriminated against by the shopkeeper, places where the wife is waiting for her husband to return from the mine, the field or the factory never feels sure that he will not be mobbed or beaten to death before he returns to her and his family.

Three Killed

"In the mountains of my own state only a few months ago, this terrorism organization not only terrorized a community but their demonstration resulted in a tragedy where three people were killed and many injured.

"My fellow citizens, do you call that American? Do you call that religious? Do you call that Christian? No, it is nothing but outlawry and criminality."

Such was the spirit of the times about the time Senator Black is on record as having been a member of the Klan. The fact of his membership was widely known in Alabama, and when his name came before the senate of the United States as an appointee to the supreme court of the United States, newspapers and senators from various states promptly referred to the Klan membership as requiring investigation.

President Roosevelt now says he didn't know, when he made the appointment, whether Mr. Black was a member of the Klan. But after the nomination went to the senate, there was plenty of public discussion about it and plenty of opportunity for Mr. Roosevelt to have found out about it if he really desired to do so. Extracts from the senate debate a month ago before Mr. Black was confirmed are illuminating. Said Senator Burke, Democrat:

"There are two gentlemen in the city of Washington, with one of whom I talked, and that one told me that he and the other gentleman in this city were both members of the Klan in Birmingham, Ala., and both were present in person on the occasion of the initiation of Mr. Hugo Black into the order; and both gentlemen could be subpoenaed to come before the committee if the committee desires to go into the question."

Senator Copeland, Democrat, of New York was equally vigorous. He said to the senate:

"We are free here in the United States because we are guarded by the supreme court. Catholics, Protestants, Negroes, Jews, Gentiles, all of us are guarded by the supreme court. But what would happen if a half dozen men of the mental bias of the nominee should be seated on the bench? Is it likely that the re-modelled court would deal tolerantly and generously with religious and racial questions as the court has done in the past?"

"Does the leopard change his spots? Will Mr. Justice Black be different than candidate Black, who, according to the 'Mobile (Ala.) Register' of Aug. 15, 1928, backed by the Klan, had a walk-away in his race for the senatorial nomination?"

Supported Proposal
Senator Tydings of Maryland, also a Democrat, thought the accusation of sufficient importance to require study by the senate judiciary committee and he supported a proposal that the nomination be "recommitted" or referred to the judiciary committee. Said Mr. Tydings:

"I shall vote for the motion to recommit believing that before the vote is cast the senate ought to have all possible information on matters bearing upon a man's fitness to sit on the highest tribunal in this land. If we do not have that kind of information, who knows but that after Senator Black is confirmed, and takes his place on the bench, these affidavits or statements may be printed in the press, and we may never have a chance to find out about their falsity or truth after the nomination is confirmed?"

"I think Senator Black above everybody else would want the senate to know the truth. What harm can there be if Senator Black is not properly subject to these imputations for the world and the senate to know it? What injury could come if these imputations

CHARGES SUITOR RAN OVER HER

Miss Eunice Murray, 22, shown here in a Malden, Mass., hospital, told police Arthur Grasso, 26, ran her down with his automobile when she refused to continue their friendship. She was treated for bruises. Grasso, held in $2,000 bail charged with assault with an automobile, pleaded innocent.

were correct and we should find it out after we had voted to confirm him?"

Notwithstanding the wise advice of Senator Tydings, the senate voted 66 to 14 against referring the nomination to the judiciary committee for further investigation. Today members of the senate are squirming and saying if they had known they would not have voted for Senator Black's confirmation.

But they were warned. They thought more of "senatorial courtesy" than they did of courtesy to the millions of Catholics, Jews, Negroes, and foreign-born who are outraged by the discovery this week that President Roosevelt has placed on the highest court in the land a man who was so narrowly minded as to take an oath of membership in a secret order which was plotting against his fellow-Americans. If Mr. Black stays on the bench, lawyers who have civil liberty cases will no doubt consider the necessity of filing a petition in those cases asking that Mr. Black be disqualified from sitting. It is no exaggeration to say that, if the senate of the United States were to vote today on whether to confirm Mr. Black on the basis of the evidence now available, the nomination would never be ratified.

Unless, therefore, President Roosevelt finds a way to persuade Mr. Black to resign so that another man may be nominated in his place, the responsibility for the presence of a Ku Klux Klansman on the supreme court of the United States will be upon the chief executive himself.

Appropriations by congress for the suppressions of counterfeiting were first made in 1881.

THE SOUTH CHANGES IDEALS

For a period of 20 years after it came into existence the Ku Klux Klan ruled the Southland, and it ruled with a rod of iron. There was justification for the Klan in those days. The South certainly carried a staggering burden in the Carpetbaggers from the north who bestrode its shoulders, picked its pockets, insulted its people, and induced the negro to laze and loaf but took his votes.

Then about 1890 the South arose to its feet. It hurled the Carpetbaggers into the ditch. It talked sense to the negro who by this time realized he had been used by the Carpetbaggers for what there was in it. When the South put its real brains and energies to work there was no holding it.

It was about 1895 that Henry W. Grady described the situation thus: "There was a South of slavery and secession. That South is dead. There is a South of liberty and union. That South, thank heaven, is living, breathing, growing every hour."

From the time the South threw off the Klan in the nineties for 30 years it made unparalleled improvement. This is said deliberately and is supported by all the records despite the fact that considerable room for improvement still remains.

But in 1920 the Klan which had been slumbering lifted its serpentine head. It resurrected the Tragic Era. It appealed to the basest in mankind, hatred, revenge, bigotry. It whipped and burned and slew. And today through the Southland Henry W. Grady's magnificent words of promise have been turned back for the new slogan:

"A Klansman sits on the supreme court of the United States—Join the Klan."

THE END OF THE ROPE

Before Governor LaFollette hit upon the plan of higher taxes on the dead to sustain relief he consulted with leaders of all political groups. We are not informed of the unanimity or lack of it for the governor's proposed method of obtaining these funds. But it is a safe conclusion that Mr. LaFollette also carefully went over the ground with other groups, men familiar with the operation of our taxation system, where it sags, where it operates efficiently and where it bogs down entirely.

And of course it was decided that real estate could not be expected to bear this additional burden while it must build schools, public buildings, sewage systems, and sustain practically all the rest of the numerous services maintained for the protection, edification and security of each locality.

Naturally, it may be fairly presumed, income taxes, corporate and personal, were considered.

It now seems to be clearly understood everywhere in America, except at Washington that a corporate income tax is such a thinly disguised sales tax it might easily be convicted under the law for false pretenses. So that was quickly put aside. When we really come to taxing people "in proportion to their ability to pay," that beauteous slogan known mostly by its exceptions, we will abolish corporate income taxes entirely.

Next in natural sequence to be considered must have been personal income taxes. There is a prevailing prejudice against proceeding further in this direction because the ground has been preempted by Washington. The federal law leaves little to be desired in respect to cutting big incomes into big slices, and what little more may be desired in that respect will certainly take place before our Tommy Manville treasury system gets through spending. Besides these taxes in Wisconsin have already been put up 60 per cent.

So Governor LaFollette decided there was nothing to do but go to the cemetery. Washington, he will find, is ahead of him there, although Wisconsin already takes more from estates than Washington. But it is felt that within certain classifications a 30 per cent surtax can be added to the amount now taken by the state from the property of those who die.

Shortly we will be at the end of the rope. Before long the cries of help from those in distress and the organized minorities must go unanswered unless we again resort to the plan which Mr. Roosevelt imported from Europe.

Europe, going broke every few generations paying for the bills of Mars, has tried out everything. It had to.

The importation from Europe which we are now using is to take 40 per cent of the gold out of the dollar, but still call it a dollar and likewise, pay obligations with it.

But there is an end to that rope, too. The French franc, once worth 20 cents in our money, is now down to 3 1/2. And that even after we took 40 per cent of the gold out of our dollar.

The European system is to work this clipping process until there is no more to clip. Then you start all over again by getting a new name for your currency.

Thus it will be seen that although every rope has an end other ropes may be secured.

A NEW LOW IS REACHED

One of the gristliest pieces of news is that Jaconic item that neither the Japs nor the Chinese treat wounded prisoners.

A Japanese officer told a reporter with a smirk that their hospital facilities were limited and naturally they could not take in the Chinese wounded. A Chinese officer was a little more candid when he admitted that even wounded Jap prisoners are slain immediately.

This is a fine estate to which mankind has come!

Wars are now started and armies shunted about with the dispassionate methods of salesmen filling orders.

Treaties are broken and tossed into the garbage can with the nonchalance of the pomaded gentleman in certain cigarette advertisements. And this in a world that stood aghast at the supposedly brutal conduct of Germany in 1914 when it invaded Belgium against its promised word.

And international law? To use the jockey's approach, we'll bite, what is international law anyway?

The Sino-Japanese conflict comes down to the level of the Spanish civil war. The yellow men are fighting with determination to be as cruel, savage and loathsome as the whites. It is a close contest.

But it is a perfectly natural one if you really come to understand the poison that has turned humanity off the march of progress and back into barbarism.

That poison is Class Struggle. Precisely the same poison is at work in Asia, and has been at work, since the Soviets started sprinkling their creed, as turned the trick in Spain.

It is a poison half and half or cocaine, which is delusion, and marijuana which is madness.

But the work will not be complete until male children in captured territory are destroyed at birth, wells are poisoned, and cholera or some other suitable plague is well scattered over the lands and among the people of the enemy. Perhaps the Moscow Reds can think up something more fiendish than comes immediately to the minds of others. Certainly for hellishness the prize must be considered in their laps.

Yet who knows before we get through with this fever that is burning up the human race and incidentally shriveling civilization we may have discovered the very spirochete or parasite that wiped the earth almost clean of those other great civilizations that have preceded us and whose monuments we find though we do not understand what became of the people or why they perished without a trace?

TOMMY AND THE COUNT

Tommy Manville, who carries a soured look even on the rare occasions when he is sober, marries one blonde after another and helps in the spread of wealth by providing generous alimony. In coming to an adjustment with his fourth blond wife Tommy ran into a dispute that so shattered his nerve he put in a call for several extra cases of Scotch. His fourth wife, acting like a little vixen, was ungrateful enough to suggest a higher figure than the one Tommy had fixed for all his wives. Tommy has read the Declaration of Independence and is strong for that equality stuff.

The Count of Covadonga, eldest son of the Spanish king, is betting all his pesetas on brunettes. It is a matter of patriotism with him. However a Spaniard may feel, he dare not go in for blondes. And of course redheads would mean a revolution.

The count doesn't appear to have much money because the king business is in the keeping of second hand stores. But he is doing his best to pull democracy up out of the gutter by spreading his royal title far and wide.

Between the count and Tommy the Souse the divine right of men to inherit rulership is being pretty badly battered to pieces—that is, what was left of it after Wilhelm the Willess got through.

Marco Polo's travels, once regarded as fanciful tales, have since been demonstrated as sound reporting.

Employees of the United States government number more than 200,000, of whom 700,000 are stationed outside of Washington.

New England reports a boom in the boys' and girls' camp business. Enrollments this summer are from 5 to 40 per cent higher than in 1936.

Sheffield plate articles have a silver coating on a copper base. In most other plated ware the base used is nickel.

Men's luggage differs from women's luggage in that its corners are square, while the corners of women's luggage are rounded.

Robert E. Lee, a military engineer, never had commanded more than a few dozen troops in the field before the Civil war.

IT LOOKS, despite the sincere efforts on the part of Ezekiel Sobduster, that the Supreme Court issue will not be downed. . . . the unearthing of the charges of Klan membership against Justice-elect Black is another angle of the original issue, and new angles have been springing up now and again for some time. . . . it is unlikely, in your correspondent's mind, that anything more than the current unsavory smells will come out of the fringes, and Justice Black will undoubtedly be installed come the fall session next month. . . . but it is interesting to imagine what might happen if Mr. Justice Black is seated beside Mr. Justice Butler. . . . Mr. Justice Butler was termed the "Papal delegate to the Supreme Court" in the irreverent "Nine Old Men" . . . at any rate, he is an important figure in Catholic circles, and having him in the same court with a man who has had Klan support, if nothing more, is something to ponder. . . .

Perhaps your correspondent takes too much for granted. Just the same, he remembers, as a kid in high school, watching an attempted Klan demonstration. The demonstration was not an entire success, because it took place in South Bend and Notre Dame was in session at the time.

It all gets back to the original argument that Prexy R. makes too many snap judgments, and that he could have picked a better candidate.

GETTING CLOSER TO HOME

Green Bay
Jonah:
If the Chinese could only do to a Jap what they can do to a shirt!

"Scraps of fur will be stylish on winter hats." We certainly would love to see a cat fight on a hat.

The great trouble with the Black appointment is that, when the President is ended, the Supreme Court justice lingers on.

Jimmy Walker has been appointed a state grade crossing expert at $12,000 a year. A trip to Europe certainly does broaden one.

We don't know when the Republican party's vacation is going to be over, but it is going to find plenty to do when it gets back.

All the Republicans have to do is keep an organization together. The Democrats will sooner or later argue and err their way out of control. And then wait for the Republicans to repeat the process.

A Verse for Today

By Anne Campbell

IN MEMORY
(For C. K.)

The birds awakened her when dew was still Upon the flowers she planted. . . . She would rise

To tasks that claimed her loving heart and will,
And face the busy day with happy eyes.

She lived for others every waking hour
Of her long life. . . . There was no living thing
Too small to claim her care. Her hands had power

To heal the troubled heart and make it sing.

Her many children have the memory
Of years of sweet unselfish motherhood.
In a world often dark with misery,
She made a haven, beautiful and good.

This morning when the birds sang for her sake
In the green yard her ministering hand
Had made so fair, her soul was wide awake,
Tending a garden in a better land.

On our last day she will have flowers for us,
And greet us as she often has before.
Our Heaven will be more than glorious
With Mother standing by the open door.

Looking Backward

10 YEARS AGO
Thursday, Sept. 15, 1927

Isadora Duncan, noted dancer, was killed in an auto accident at Nice, France, Wednesday. There were 13 deaths attributed to heat in Chicago Wednesday, raising the total to 23 for the last three days. The mercury rose to 85 degrees in the second consecutive day. All public schools in Oshkosh were closed at midday Thursday because of the heat. Work at several Neenah factories was suspended Wednesday afternoon for the same reason.

The marriage of Miss Agnes Jansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jansen, 1125 S. Madison street, and Earl Gartz, son of Mrs. L. Gartz, 830 E. Commercial street, took place at 1 o'clock Thursday at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. F. L. Shreckenberg, pastor of Trinity English Lutheran church, performed the ceremony.

George Behnke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Behnke, Hilbert, was overcome by heat Tuesday afternoon while threshing on the farm of Frank Schabach.

25 YEARS AGO
Thursday, Sept. 10, 1912

Harvey Jamison, son of W. G. Jamison of Greenville, won first prize in the corn growing contest at the Fox River fair and was awarded a scholarship in the young people's corn growing course at the University of Wisconsin and a gold watch offered by the Evening Crescent. Out of 60 birds he entered, A. J. Shannon won 35 awards for prize poultry at the fair.

A college band was practically assured at Lawrence college. A meeting of students was scheduled for that afternoon to provide for instruments.

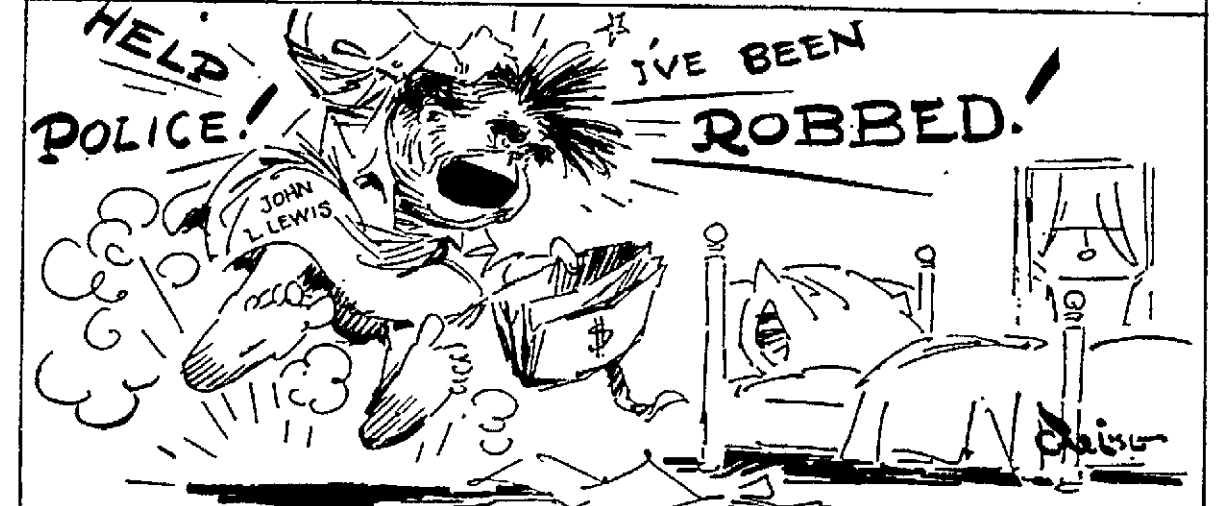

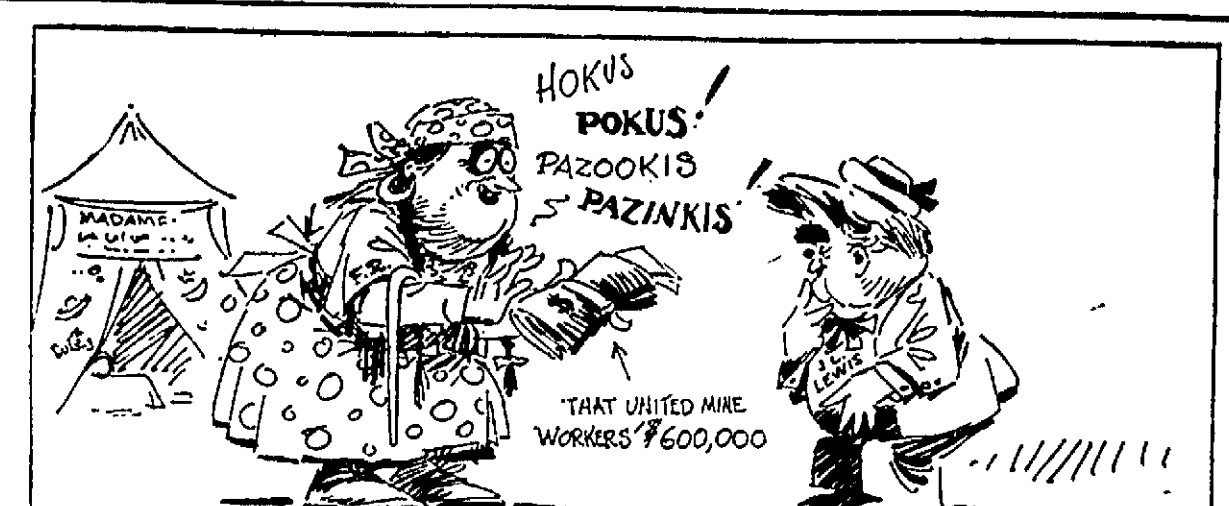

A. H. Davis, who formerly operated a grocery store in the west end of Appleton, purchased C. F. Lott's grocery at Kaukauna.

It was reported that very little of the new barley in the Appleton area was fit for malting. Miss Flora Seifert, deputy county treasurer, returned from a week's vacation at Withee. Charles Singler, wife and family, and George Lonkey, of Shiocton, were in Appleton Wednesday to attend the fair.

Miss Margaret Tuchecherer and Ray Fieweger, Menasha, were married at Menasha. J. D. Beck of the state industrial commission was slated to speak that night in Appleton on the work of the commission.

It was conceded by experts that Walter Johnson of the Washington Senators was pitching the fastest ball of any hurler in the game.

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

WHO GETS SUFFICIENT VITAMIN B?
Insidious, slowly progressive disabling conditions known as multiple neuritis or polyneuritis in this country and England, as kakki in Japan, and as beriberi in China, the Philippines and Malaysia, is now recognized as a nutritional deficiency disease, due specifically to deficiency of vitamin B in the diet.

The characteristic feature of the disease is nerve degeneration which accounts for the progressive weakness and paresis (partial paralysis) or complete loss of use of various muscles, especially in the legs and arms but along with this weakening or impairment of the voluntary muscles there is generally weakening or impairment of the heart muscle too, so that the circulation fails.

If the condition is not diagnosed and adequately treated the paresis or paralysis slowly but steadily increases and finally death occurs from the loss of the heart, edema of the lungs, hydrothorax (effusion of water or serum into the pleural cavity), hydropericardium (effusion of water or serum into the membranous sac around the heart, or paralysis of the diaphragm, and of several of these terminal conditions in complication.

In this country, notwithstanding droughts, floods, earthquakes, dust storms and occasional Democratic landslides, we have practically no starvation and so physicians in America seldom see cases of classical beriberi. But after all there are some millions of morons among the population of this free and easy country and inevitably many morons are bound to suffer with multiple neuritis as a consequence of deprivation of vitamin B incident to the loss of appetite for proper food from a considerable share of the calories on which the individual exists is derived from alcohol. So common, indeed, is this masked or modified beriberi in America that it has been known for many years as "alcoholic neuritis." It is the way many "moderate" steady drinkers, as well as periodic inebriates, finish their career. It is due to partial deprivation of vitamin B, and might as well be called d. f. neuritis or alcoholic neuritis.

Another group of sufferers from modified or mild beriberi or multiple neuritis are prospective mothers who are unduly subject to "morning sickness" and vomiting, or whose diet for any reason is exceptionally poor in vitamin content. Vitamin B, particularly, but also with the B deficiency diet is almost invariably deficient also in vitamin G and vitamin D.

Then, too, in the general population there are a great many individuals who, although not quite disabled, just manage to carry on in spite of a vague general weakness which responds to nothing but an increased intake of vitamins B, G and D. Some of these "under-par" or "run down" persons ultimately grow so weak if they do not get an adequate vitamin ration to supplement their daily diet, that they have to take enforced vacations or enter hospital for a period to "rest up" or "rejuvenate."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
A Safe Job
What medication or food would you suggest for a steeple jack to counteract or prevent lead poisoning to which he is constantly exposed? (A. R.)
Answer—Only risk of lead poisoning is from inhalation of lead dust or lead fumes. Steeple jack would be less exposed than a painter on the ground or in a shop. Careful washing of hands before eating is always necessary to prevent ingesting bits of lead with food.

Robber Thwarted by Shout in Postoffice
Employees and patrons alike at the postoffice substation at 309 West 125th street, New York, were thrown into confusion when a Negro who had been standing in line at the postal savings window suddenly shouted "stick-up" and leaped over a three-foot counter rail, to crouch in terror behind it. But there was no hold-up man in sight and nobody knew where to run, or what to run from. So someone telephoned for radio patrolmen.

A Bystander In Washington

BY PRESTON GROVER
Washington — When Hugo Black takes his place at the council table of the Supreme Court he will remember, with a tinge of regret, the sturdy good-fellowship he left behind in the senate.
The Supreme Court is not clubby. The members are more often contentious and crusty when they sit at the council table to hammer out their opinions. There is no "certainly I will yield to my illustrious friend and fellow senator from Alabama." There hasn't been an "era of good feeling" in the court for several years. The sour flavor has prevailed since before the New Deal came to split the court into spluttering fragments.
Good information coming to us has it that Black can expect to use usual courteous greetings from the members of the weightiest juridical body in the country. These elderly justices know and follow the ways of gentlemen—until they go to bat around the council table.

Whether Black will take his seat immediately upon meeting of the court Oct. 4 has not been decided. In a measure, that is up to him. He has been appointed and confirmed by the senate, but a suit is pending before the court challenging the legality of his appointment. Albert Levitt, former judge of the Virgin Islands, has filed suit in the Supreme Court raising the same questions about Black's standing that were raised in the senate—that no vacancy resulted from the retirement (without resignation) of Justice Van Devanter, that Black participated in increasing the emoluments of the office when congress extended retirement privileges to the justices.

The court will decide, perhaps as early as Oct. 11, whether there is sufficient ground to consider Levitt's proposition.

Black will have a seat on the far left wing of the court. That isn't because he is a liberal. It is because the court sits according to seniority, and Black is junior of them all. Justice Cardozo, now next above Black in seniority, is perhaps as liberal as Black but will sit on the extreme right wing of the court. That is the next step in progression toward the seats of elegance—next to the chief justice.

Speak Carefully, Mr. Black

When Black begins participating in the court's business, he will get the routine, unimportant cases—if the court follows precedent. Cardozo got them. Only occasionally did he rate an opportunity to write the majority opinion in a top-flight case. Such opportunities came to him with greater frequency during the last two years, after he had been several years on the court. It is fully expected by court observers that if Black seeks to impose the dictates of the White House upon the Supreme Court, he will be taken apart at the council table by conservatives and liberals alike. They are masters of verbal rough house. He probably won't try it, at least not in any high-hanging case, even though he is not infant himself when it comes to verbal brawling.

At times the members of the Supreme Court get so heated up at the council table that they snap at each other after they take their seats on the bench, before the public. There isn't a chummy pair in the lot. Van Devanter used to get along well with most of them, but he is gone. Occasionally Stone and Cardozo talk to each other as they sit at the bench. So do Butler and Roberts. Chief Justice Hughes sometimes turns for a word or two with Justice Brandeis.

But for the most part Black, the affable, who ends almost every question with "won't you please, suh," will find his court colleagues a grim bunch.

Trap Is Laid for Plant Food Thief

Agronomists Seek Best Method of Restoring Nitrogen to Soil

Stillwater, Okla. —(AP)—A giant trap is being laid to snare the thief Oklahoma A. and M. college agronomists have made a trap from 30 to 60 per cent of the soil's nitrogen in some 40 years of cultivation.

Dr. Horace J. Harper and Dr. Garth W. Volk, agronomists who have set about to corner the felon of the soils, look for no success in a fortnight—they'll go trapping for 10 years.

Forty-eight lysimeters, or metal cylinders designed to catch and measure all water that passes through or runs off the soil enclosed within them, are being set in the soil of the college experimental farm here.

Two more experiments are planned for other parts of Oklahoma.

Dr. Harper and Dr. Volk know the nitrogen thieves well enough. What they want to learn is which one of three is making off with the most loot.

Nitrogen is lost by absorption by nitrogen-using crops or is washed away by water erosion or dissolving and borne down by surface water sinking into the subsoil. By the time the police arrived the brief history had been cleared up. The Negro who was Robert Thompson of 272 Manhattan avenue. He and two women were held up in the apartment but the invaders found no money. To avoid a beating Thompson said he made up a story about having $700 in a postal savings account and which he offered to get for the thugs. One man went with Thompson to the postoffice, and stood behind him while he waited at the window. At last when he could keep up the pretense no longer, Thompson yelled and jumped. In the confusion, Thompson escaped from the hold-up man, and the hold-up man escaped from Thompson.

Hotel Dobbins at WEAUWEGA Has Official Opening

More Than 80 Public Officials of Waupaca County Attend Banquet

WEAUWEGA—“Open house” was observed as part of the festivities in connection with the opening of the new Hotel Dobbins at WEAUWEGA, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week. On “WEAUWEGA night,” Sept. 14, the hotel was officially welcomed by Mrs. Grace Sterns of Omro, daughter of George Dobbins, Fremont, the owner. The name of the hotel was decided upon by Mayors E. W. Wendland of New London, F. F. Fisher of Waupaca and A. A. Washburn of Clintonville.

L. W. Eastling, Manawa, chairman of the Waupaca county board, was master of ceremonies at the banquet Wednesday evening when more than eighty public officials of the county with their wives, were present.

Thursday night was “Wisconsin night” and under the direction of Prof. B. F. Rusey of the college of agriculture at Madison. Representatives of various railroad lines were in attendance, as were many other notable guests including Harold Wilkie, president of the board of regents of the University of Wisconsin, and Mrs. Wilkie.

Chief Joe John Ka-Qua-Tosh and his mother, of the Menominee Indian tribe at Keshena, Wis., were guests of the hotel during the week, and on Tuesday night the chief presented Mr. Dobbins on behalf of his people, a beautiful carved pipe of peace at the same time inviting him to become an honorary member of the tribe. The presence of this chief, direct descendant of the Ringle chief, highest ever to officiate at ceremonial functions, signified the good will of the Indians towards the present inhabitants of the old Indian camping grounds. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holbrook are the managers of Hotel Dobbins.

BACK AIR TOUR OF WISCONSIN

Two aviation leaders are participating in the Wisconsin air tour which left Milwaukee Monday morning and was scheduled to end at Lake Delton Thursday. Among the 60 persons, pilots and passengers, making the trip in 42 planes are S. J. Wittman (center), of Oshkosh, racing pilot and designer, and Howard Morey (right), of Madison. They are shown with Carlyle Godske, manager of the airport at Racine, during the tour's stop there.

“NERVOUS BREAKDOWN” May Result from Vitamin Lack
“Overwork” gets blamed for many cases of so-called nervous breakdowns when, as a matter of fact, the condition is probably due to lack of Vitamin D, and to the diet, especially Vitamin B. The person who enjoys robust health tackles work with enthusiasm and energy. He is the person who is getting an adequate amount of Vitamin B, as well as Vitamin D and C. Those who feel “run-down,” and fagged out, who have no appetite, no energy, should supplement their diet with RAY-D Irradiated Yeast Tablets. These tasty, convenient tablets are made from superior strains of non-fermenting food-yeast. Each gram contains not less than 40 Chase and Sherman units of Vitamin B in addition to 1250 U. S. P. 20 units of Vitamin D and 200 units of Vitamin C. RAY-D Irradiated Yeast Tablets are the most potent, dependable and economical way to stockpile Vitamin B and C in the diet in adequate amounts. RAY-D IRRADIATED YEAST TABLETS, a product of the National Institute of Nutrition, are a food supplement approved by physicians. $1.00 per box of 25 tablets. At all drugstores—adv.

Cholera Epidemic Rages in Foreign Areas in Shanghai

Chinese Drive Japanese Forces Back in Fierce Counter-Attack

BY JAMES A. MILLS
Shanghai—(AP)—A cholera epidemic reaching grave proportions spread through the foreign sectors of this war-racked metropolis today, striking down more than 100 additional victims overnight.

The sweep of the dread plague raised the number of cases in the international settlement and the French concession alone to 740. There are an additional 1,400 suspected cases in the two areas.

In the Chinese sections of the city, where war refugees have been huddled together without even the most primitive sanitary provisions, the number of cases was believed in the thousands. Because of conditions it has been impossible even to estimate the number affected outside the settlement and the French concession.

The great number of those stricken are Chinese who have been forced into Shanghai from the war zones ringing the city. The native population of the foreign sectors has been almost doubled by the tragic army of homeless civilians. Only a few foreigners have been affected.

Drive Japanese Back

Chinese counter-attacked in force today from the center of their strong Shanghai defense line and drove the Japanese from battle-scarred Lotien, 15 miles northwest of the international settlement.

Despite a steady downpour of rain, the Chinese troops were said to have broken a mechanized Japanese attack. Counter-attacking, they drove out the Japanese who had entered the town with armored cars and tanks. Lotien has changed hands countless times in the five weeks of battle in the delta.

The Chinese spokesman said that the heavy rain had slackened activities along the entire 30-mile front from Shanghai's north station northwest to the Yangtze river. The Japanese, he said, were having great difficulty moving their motorized units through the mud-mired roads.

Major operations in the Shanghai sector can be expected shortly, a Japanese army spokesman said, now that General Iwane Matsui, has taken over the high command in the area. He indicated that the long-heralded big push to drive the Chinese into the interior might be in the offing. The Japanese strength at Shanghai has been variously estimated at from 60,000 to 120,000 men.

Chinese Forces

The Japanese spokesman said the Chinese now have 29 divisions of 300,000 men in the Shanghai and Soochow areas with 13 divisions massed in the immediate Shanghai area. Two of these, he said, were strongly entrenched in the Footung area across the Whangpoo river from Shanghai proper.

At least one German field officer, acting as technical adviser to the Chinese commander, is attached to each division in the field, while other German experts are attached to the various military organizations in Nanking.

The highly efficient, unofficial general staff of 60 German World War veterans is headed by China's ranking tactician, General Baron Alexander von Falkenhausen. He is working in close cooperation with General Chen Cheng, chief of the general staff, and General Pai Chung-Shi, general field commander.

The Nanking government declared the Japanese had built an air-drome at Pailungkang on the coastal fringe of the Footung area at the mouth of the Yangtze.

Fear of the outbreak of hostilities again in Footung, placing the settlement in danger from shell fire is one of the reasons holding the foreign community from settling down to normal life. The management of the Cathay and Palace hotels announced today they would be reopened Saturday.

Americans and other foreigners, however, are showing little inclination to return to the rooms which they gave up on "Bloody Saturday," Aug. 14, when an air bomb struck the hotels, killing and wounding hundreds of Chinese and some foreigners.

Although the windows on the lower floors are still shattered the management made plans to shelter guests on the upper floors.

Cable communications between Shanghai and the outside world were temporarily interrupted last night and today but service was resumed after the emergency line, laid only three days ago, was repaired. Until a m. international traffic had been borne by two American radio companies.

Waupaca Justice to Conduct Hearing on Manslaughter Charge

Mamaw — Preliminary examination of Ferdinand Rast, 28, charged with first degree manslaughter, will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the justice court of S. W. Johnson at Waupaca.

Rast was the driver of one of two cars involved in an accident at Bear Lake, June 27, in which four persons, including his wife, were killed. The three others, fatally injured, were boys ranging in age from 15 to 17 years who were riding in the second machine.

He pleaded not guilty to the charge when arraigned in justice court July 19.

ABANDONED EGGS PRODUCE Terrebonne, Ore.

—(AP)—Mrs. Ada Garrett, who has a small farm here, was looking over a dump ground when she saw a number of eggs that were obviously hatching.

Investigating, she was able to pick more than 50 turkeys out of the shells. The young birds are now thriving on her acres.

The eggs lay on some warm ashes and Mrs. Garrett believes the heat helped hatch them.

Hobbies, sports are part of charm development

Miss Serrec will conduct a charm school next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights at Castle hall under the auspices of the Appleton Post-Crescent.

Choose to Be Charming

BY JANETTE SERREC
Copyright, 1936, by Janette Serrec

This is the eighth of a series of articles on "Charms" by Miss Serrec, who will lecture at the Knights of Pythias Castle Hall at 8 o'clock in the evening of Sept. 20-21-22-23, under the auspices of the Appleton Post-Crescent.

Are you in earnest about this matter of self-improvement? How earnest?

Perhaps you wish to goodness you didn't have to shop in the Stylish Stouts. Well, if you don't pick up some sharp diets and exercises and start whittling, you aren't really in earnest.

You'd give you-don't-know-what if that sleek allure and bright conversation could be yours? Well, if you sit around moodily munching caramels and reading movie magazines, and talking with Gwen about what you heard Sue said Marge said she had heard from Lou, you aren't really in earnest at all.

You've got to get down to business. You've got to make a plan and stick to it. You've got to take yourself apart, find out what needs improving. Find out how. Then go to work. Not just this afternoon, but right along with the calendar.

One of the worst enemies of self-improvement is the incredible talent most women have for self-delusion. They see themselves not as they are, but as they would like themselves to be.

Fifteen years ago Marge had a lovely slim figure. People spoke of her lovely slim figure. Now she's soft and lumpy and waddles around like an animated cream puff.

Does Marge know this? No, indeed, Marge does not know this. Oh, she will laughingly chide herself now and then about reducing, but she thinks she has just picked up a touch of plumpness that isn't, after all, unbecoming.

She looks at herself in the mirror, and she does not see the but-terball that she is, but a figure that may be just a shade plump, perhaps, but what of it? Marge forces her mirror to be polite to her, and to be polite the poor mirror has to tell a falsehood.

Watch somebody look into a mirror. See if she doesn't take on an unnatural expression and pose, spruced up, satisfied. You are viewing the process of unconscious self-delusion. You are watching a mirror whispering flattering nonsense back to a woman who hasn't learned that her mirror is her best friend if she will talk with it honestly.

If your intimate conversations with an honest mirror are not as complimentary as you would like, be assured a little hard work will make it say more pleasant things before long, and mean them, too. That is, if you've listened honestly, made an intelligent plan of correction, and stuck to it.

And that, my dears, is being earnest about self-improvement.

Appleton city officials today are attending the 39th annual convention of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities which opened today at Fond du Lac. Mayor John Goodland, Jr., attended the pre-convention dinner, held last night, at which Earl Mallory, representative of the American Municipal association, spoke.

Governmental problems ranging from automobile trailer regulation to the pin ball controversy will be analyzed at the convention. J. H. Wallis, Rice Lake, is president of the state league. Sectional meetings and general conferences are being held.

Others attending the convention from Appleton are: Carl J. Becher, city clerk; Joseph A. Kox, city treasurer; George E. Peotter, city assessor; Lloyd M. Schindler, city engineer; George E. Gauslin, plumbing inspector; Elmer O'Keefe, and Aldermen Mike Steinhauer, R. D. Deland, C. D. Thompson, John Harriman, E. P. Grignon, Gustave Keller, Edward M. Knuijt, George Brautigam, Lawrence McGillan, W. H. VanderHyden, R. H. Kubitz and J. J. Franzke.

It thus was not expected the executive's address would touch on that angle of the court dispute.

CATTLE FACE BIG JOB

Columbus, O.—(AP)—On the average Ohio pasture, a cow would have to take 180 bites of grass a minute for 12 hours in order to keep its milk production up to scratch, says D. R. Dodd, agronomist at Ohio State university.

If a cow is to produce 25 to 35 pounds of milk, it must consume 200 pounds of grass to get the necessary amount of digestible proteins and nutrients, he figures.

The average pasture has only about 1,200 pounds of grass an acre available at one time, so the cow would have to harvest one-sixth of an acre daily. And that calls for 180 bites a minute for 12 hours. Dodd suggests improving the pasture.

Roosevelt and 2 Court Plan Foes Due for Speeches

Constitution Day Addresses May Add Fuel to Controversy

Washington—(AP)—President Roosevelt and two staunch opponents of his judiciary reorganization program will engage in a three-sided discussion this weekend which may add new fuel to the nationwide controversy over the supreme court.

Each will give a speech inspired by the observance tomorrow of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the constitution.

Senator Borah (R-Idaho), long recognized as an authority on constitutional law, will lead off tonight at a Masonic meeting.

President Roosevelt's address, which may hold the key to his future court policies, will be delivered at the base of the Washington monument tomorrow night. It will be the principal Constitution day rally.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) will round out the discussion with a speech Saturday at a Michigan political rally. His subject is "The Republican Challenge."

Although there was no advance indication that any of the speeches will be a direct rebuttal to the others, they will represent widely divergent viewpoints. Consequently Washingtonians were referring to them as a "debate" which may draw issues carrying over into the 1938 congressional elections.

Still Favors Changes

Mr. Roosevelt still regards some reorganization of the supreme court as desirable and he may weave his views on the constitution into a discourse on current judicial questions.

He put finishing touches on his address today. It is known that he has spent considerable time and thought on the speech, and most observers expect it to be an extremely important one.

Whetting interest in all three addresses is current discussion over the alleged Ku Klux Klan membership of Justice Hugo L. Black, whom the president recently named to the only supreme court vacancy which has occurred during his administration.

Mr. Roosevelt has said he received no information from any source that Black was a klanman prior to appointing the former Alabama senator.

It thus was not expected the executive's address would touch on that angle of the court dispute.

MARRIED FOR HALF CENTURY

Mr. and Mrs. Claus Flink, above, town of Union, Waupaca county, are observing their golden wedding anniversary today at their home. A dinner will be served to about 80 guests this evening by their children and members of the Ladies Aid society of St. Mark's Evangelical Lutheran church of Symco.

Town of Union Pair Is Observing Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Claus Flink, residents of the town of Union and village of Symco for more than half a century, will be observed at their home in the latter place Thursday evening. The children, together with members of the Ladies Aid of St. Mark's Evangelical Lutheran church, Symco, will serve dinner for about 80 guests.

Claus Flink, a native of Sweden, was born in that country on March 16, 1859, and came to America as a young man in 1885. He settled at once on a farm in Union, a place that he literally hewed out of the wilderness. His wife, the former Miss Lena Behnke, was born in Germany, Feb. 16, 1870, and came to this country with her parents when she was five years old. This family also settled in Union township, and it was here that Miss Behnke and Mr. Flink were married on Sept. 16, 1887. They lived on the Flink farm until 1920 when they moved to Symco.

Ten children were born to them, all but one of whom are living. They are Mrs. Joseph Schertz of Symco, Mrs. Albert Huebner of Lebanon, Mrs. Martin Kostrzak of Manawa, Mrs. Edward Riske of Union, Mrs. Carl Rineck of Manawa, Albert Flink of Chiltonville, Dave Flink of Big Falls, Clarence and Henry Flink of Union.

Farm Group for Federal Plan to Limit Acreage

120 Committeemen Give General Approval to Government's Plan

Washington—(AP)—Advocates of an acreage limitation proposal said today it has the general approval of 120 farm committeemen here for conferences on 1938 crop control legislation.

The committeemen have been operating farm programs under the agriculture adjustment administration. Leaders predicted the next congress would expand their efforts, going beyond limitations of the present soil conservation act.

The acreage proposal, presented as a tentative basis for the next venture into farm aid, would impose limits on how much land a cooperating farmer could plant to corn, cotton, tobacco, potatoes, rice and peanuts.

Some of the state leaders said the new program, using $500,000,000 in benefit payments, would dovetail with the "ever-normal granary" which Secretary Wallace advocates.

Under the 1933 program as now on paper, AAA officials would limit harvested acreage of all major or soil-depleting crops to 275,000,000 or 283,000,000 acres. They estimated 300,000,000 acres would be harvested if there is no federal program.

The general aim of the program, as described to the farm leaders, is to encourage production of crops that conserve the soil on all land not needed for 1938 production "and the carrying out of soil-conserving practices."

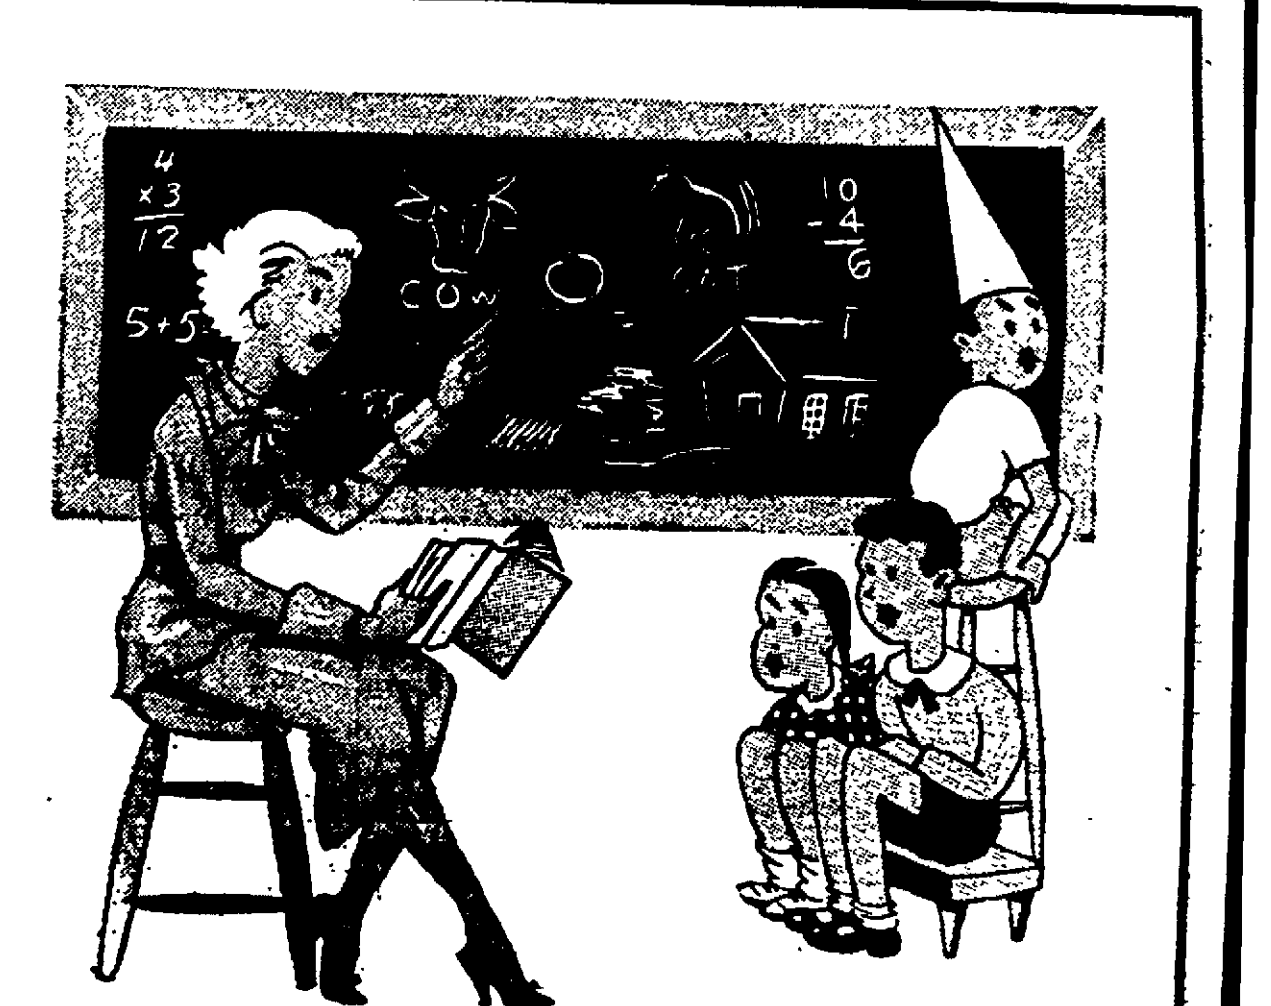

Goals or limits for the individual farms would be set by the county AAA committeemen after considering "good soil management, the tillable acreage of the farm, the type of soil, topography, production facilities," home food and feed needs.

Officials said the session continued through today to complete minor changes.

Argument Develops Over Bidding of Tricky Hand

BY ELY CULBERTSON

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: I must call upon you to settle an argument which started between my wife and myself last Tuesday night after a duplicate game and has continued intermittently. Not playing together, we both happened to be South in the following hand:

East, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

NORTH
A 5 4
K 6 3 2
10 9 5

EAST
K Q J 2
None
K 7 2
A J 10 7 5 2

SOUTH
A K 10 7
K 8 6
A 9 6

"East opened the bidding with one club, and the whole argument hinges around the point of South's possible calls that South can make. They are: Pass, one heart, one diamond, double, and one no trump. I do not wish to go into a lengthy analysis as to the advantages and disadvantages of each bid because then I would be stepping into your shoes and giving you my opinion. It is your astute opinion that I seek. Perhaps my wife and I both are wrong and one of the other three bids is correct. But that is for you to decide.

"Over the one club opening I bid one heart. West promptly and viciously doubled. When the bidding reached me, I rescued myself at one no trump upon which West doubled a trifle more promptly and more viciously. By this time my partner had made up his mind that I needed some help and came to my aid with a charming bid of two spades. West's two doubles were dilatory and mild compared to the ferocity with which East pounced on this bid. With super horrible defense by the opponents, my partner contrived to go down only one trick, 200 points, for a bottom on the board.

"When my wife played this board she passed the one club bid. West bid one heart, North passed, and East bid a spade. Again my wife passed, expecting the opposition to go higher and then double for a killing. But West double-crossed her and passed this latter bid. East made a couple of spades and my wife received slightly better than average score.

"What should South do over East's one club opening bid? As man to man, I hope you will see my point of view in this matter and cast your vote in favor of our downtrodden sex.

"Trusting yours,
"A. M. S., New York N. Y."

I can well understand that South's correct act over an opening club bid would lead to controversy, because it is a close point. South's hand is about one-half a playing trick short to be safe as an overall under the rule of two and three, but the presence of three and one-half honor tricks (giving the proper "plus valuation" to the diamond jack and club queen) makes a pass unattractive. Particularly in a match point duplicate game, I would not pass since even if a game for either side is not involved, North-South may be able to make a larger part score than can East-West. I would not overcall with a diamond because, in my opinion, there is nothing constructive about such a call. One no trump does not appeal to me. Such a bid indicates a hand as good as an opening no trump bid, hence would be "lying." The choice between a takeout double and one heart is extremely close, and I would not criticize either bid.

If South doubles and North responds with one spade, South must pass, not even showing his heart suit. Hence I prefer the heart overcall. If I am doubled I rescue myself with one no trump.

Incidentally, on the actual hand given, there should have been no reason for South to rescue himself. North should have redoubled one heart to prevent just such an eventuality.

TODAY'S QUESTION.
Question: Is the following a good opening two bid?

Old Gardener Says:

By E. I. FARRINGTON

Autumn is the best time to divide and plant old clumps of border plants, at least in many sections. The old plants should be lifted completely out of the ground with a garden fork. The young and vigorous growths should then be selected for replanting. In many cases, as with phlox, the original crown should be discarded. Should the soil be too wet when new plants are received, they may remain a few days in a cool, airy shed, or a similar position. Shrubs or trees that cannot be planted immediately should be heeled in, which means setting them in the ground close together with the roots covered. Plant permanently as soon as possible. It is essential to plant firmly, so that the subsequent growths will be strong and sturdy; loose, clumsy planting has the opposite effect.

Customs of Savage Tribes

VIII—MORE ABOUT WEDDINGS

Savages often obtain their wives by paying the parents for them. They give hides, livestock or other things in exchange for a bride.

A Waimea Bride.

Young Kaffirs go to a city in South Africa, and spend two years in earning money. They save what they can to buy kettles, cloth and shoes. With these, they return to their tribes and trade them for mates.

That is just one example of marriage by purchase. The idea that a wife is a piece of property is a widespread belief among savages. She is bought and owned by the husband, as if she were a cow or a donkey.

Among the Santals of India, there is a custom which gives comfort to a young man who cannot obtain a wife in any other way. If he steals close to a girl, and places a bit of red color on her forehead with his finger, he can claim her for his wife.

Teacher Should be Told If Child Has Handicap

BY ANGELO PATRI

When a child who goes to school to a new teacher be sure to tell that teacher about any physical handicap the child happens to have. If he does not see well, if he is slightly hard of hearing, if he has to leave the room between recesses, tell the teacher the first day and give her a chance to arrange the child's schedule so that he can be made as fit and as comfortable as possible.

Some mothers are afraid to tell such things because they fear that the teacher will mark the child deficient and neglect him on the ground that he can't learn and there is no use wasting time on him. That is a sad mistake. If the child does not see well or cannot hear well, the teacher will place him so that he has the best possible chance to see and hear; and she will, if necessary, appoint some friendly, helpful pupil to look after the child in need of help.

When the handicapped child is sent to the new class without a hint of his difficulty it takes some time for the teacher to discover what is wrong. The child will not do good work; the teacher certainly will find fault with him and mark him accordingly. The child is doing his best, straining every nerve in his body to get the work in class; fails miserably in spite of his efforts and becomes completely discouraged. Then he is likely to become a delinquent into the bargain.

The risk is too great. No good can come of such secrecy. Only harm. Tell the teacher. If she cannot be trusted with such secrets then she cannot be trusted with the welfare of great groups of children, but she is trusted so every day by the whole community. Secrecy is unfair to the child and unjust to the teacher.

There is another reason that makes such telling imperative. In an emergency it might be necessary to give such a child immediate and personal help. If nobody knows that the child needs that help he will not get it. Why take such a chance for so little reason?

When you register a child in a new school give the recording teacher the correct address and the names of the persons who are his proper and responsible guardians.

New Queen Allows Pale Nail Polish

BY ELSIE PIERCE

SHE who dictates the trend in fingertip fashions returned from an extended trip to England recently with the important news that the new queen has decreed that pale shades of polish may now be worn at court. This is a compromise with fashion which took more than twenty years to come about.

A delightful vogue introduced some two years ago is that of matching lips and fingertips. But those women whom other women copy are harmonizing the color of their nails with that of their costume, their skin tones, their make-up, even their jewels.

Harmony with Skin Tones

Five new nail polish shades just being introduced are all based on different tones of the skin. Mauve, ivory, yellow, beige and blood tones are all discernible in the tones of the skin to the artist's practiced eye. Each of the new polish shades will accentuate one or more of these tones, thus blending perfectly with the tones of the hand. This does not mean that one cannot, at the same time, harmonize jewels and make-up as well for that is precisely what is intended. Skin tones, however, are of primary importance. The Duchess of Kent, for instance, recently asked for a special blend of nail polish to set off the lovely ivory tones of her skin, yet remain soft enough to wear at court.

Of the five new nail polish shades one will be a blue-violet with a faint rose tone, perfect with green, pastel blues, purple blues and purple also with silver and gold metallics and brocades; perfect too with the new rose, peaches and cream facial make-up.

Another shade is clover, a silver-violet rose which harmonizes beautifully with deep browns, mahoganies and burgundy.

For rusts, cedar and spice toned fabrics there's the shade called thistle, of soft rose-brown heather. And for the deeper blues, browns and mustard there's nasturtium, an orange-toned red like the flower. For reds, plaids, gray and black there's a live, spicy pimento red, like a dash of wild gypsy color.

MISCELLANEOUS QUESTIONS

Dear Mrs. Post: When eating in a number of restaurants I have noticed that very often the waitress places individual plates of salad after she has brought the soup. Does this mean that according to the customs of the restaurant people are expected to eat it next, or what?

Answer: Usually salad is served just before the dessert, and certain varieties are eaten as hors d'oeuvres before the soup, but I have never heard of serving salad after the soup and before the meat. At a guess, I should say that where service is limited the waitress puts the salad on the table whenever there is room on her serving tray, or else it is meant to be eaten as the bread is—while waiting for whichever next course it may be.

Every Husband Desires To be a Hero to His Wife

BY DOROTHY DIX

Dear Miss Dix—Why is it that wives so seldom realize that what their husbands need from them more than anything else is moral support? What they call in football parlance "cheers from the sidelines." A wife's belief in her husband will boost him into success, just as her lack of faith in him will drag him down to failure. As long as a wife gives her husband the glad-hand she needn't be afraid of him holding some other woman's hands. The real reason why most husbands leave home is in search of some woman who will give them the flattery they don't get at home. Why haven't women sense enough to realize this?

A MERE HUSBAND.

Answer: Only the Lord who made that strange thing, a woman's brain, which works in a mysterious way its wonders to perform, can answer this conundrum. It is the more unsolvable because woman knows that the bait with which she caught her fish was a nice, large, juicy hunk of jolly.

She made some man believe that he was the handsomest, wisest, wildest individual in the world, and that it was just a matter of time until he would be elected president or the head of a bank or win the world's golf championship or swim across the Atlantic Ocean. And why she should throw away her bait as soon as the marriage ceremony is over, must forever head the list of unfathomable crimes.

That a wife can either make her husband or break him by her attitude toward him is one of the most obvious facts in life. As long as a wife believes in her husband, she simply buxins him up to do the very best that is in him. She stimulates his energy and his ambition, and he justifies himself every effort in order to justify himself in her eyes and to live up to her ideal of him. He simply has to make good.

Every man desires to be a hero to his wife. He values her praise and her admiration more than that of anybody else on earth. As long as she keeps him on a pedestal and looks up to him it stiffens his backbone, and strengthens his arm so that he can go out and fight the world. But if he knows that she has a contempt for him, that she considers him a weakling and a dillard, it takes the last bit of courage out of him and he becomes the poor failure she esteems him.

Men want their wives to cheer them on by appreciating what they do for them. It is mighty easy to work for a wife who is always telling you how good and kind and generous you are, how lucky she is to have you for a husband, how marvelous it was the way you pulled off that deal, and who boasts of your every success. And it is mighty hard to work for a wife who is never satisfied with what you can give her: who is always holding up some other man's achievement, to you and wondering why you can't make as much money as he does.

If wives realized that when they destroyed a man's faith in himself

Correctly a plate with a spoon and fork on it is put down in front of you. You lift the fork and spoon off and the waitress exchanges the empty plate for the filled one. Or to make service quicker, the filled plate is put down and then the implements are laid at right and left of plate. If the hostess herself does the serving it would be more convenient to put the dessert implements across the top of the plate when the table is set. Remember that expediency should be taken into consideration always. In a simple house rule of formality should be obeyed whenever they are not hampering, but when this is the case, then make whatever adaptation that is most practical—and pleasing.

they killed the goose that laid the golden egg, perhaps there wouldn't be so many belittling wives who are always finding fault with the men to whom they are married. Perhaps there wouldn't be so many wives who show their husbands that they think they are dubs, incapable of accomplishing anything worth while.

I have known more than one man whose failure I have felt was solely due to his wife's discouragement. She always spoke of him as "poor John," depreciated his lack of judgment and initiative, and bemoaned his not being a go-getter until she took all the heart out of him and he slacked down. She had made him feel himself so lacking in all business ability that he didn't have the nerve to even ask for a raise in pay.

Furthermore, it is true, as my correspondent says, that a wet blanket will cool off a husband's love affair with any other known thing. Every man must have some woman to admire him and if his wife won't do it he hunts up a more appreciative lady.

|---|-------------------------------|
| (Delicious with Coffee) | |
| 1-3 cups butter | 1 teaspoon salt |
| 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar | 1 teaspoon |
| 1 egg | grated orange rind (optional) |
| 1 1/2 cups milk | 4 cups flour |
| 1 teaspoon vanilla | 4 1/2 teaspoons baking powder |
| 1 teaspoon cinnamon | |
| Cream butter and sugar. Add rest of the ingredients, mixing lightly. Chill dough and roll out a small portion at a time. Cut out doughnuts and fry in deep hot fat. Drain. Serve plain or dusted with confectioner's sugar. | |

Golden Salad

|---|---------------------------|
| 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin | 1 cup chopped pimentos |
| 1 2-3 cups boiling water | 1 teaspoon chopped onions |
| 2-3 cup grated raw carrots | 1 teaspoon salt |
| 1 cup chopped cabbage | 3 tablespoons paprika |
| 1 cup chopped salad dressing | |
| Dissolve gelatin in water. Cool and allow to thicken a little. Add rest of the ingredients and chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce and surround with more dressing. | |

Cheese Circles

|---|-----------------------------|
| 24 two-inch bread circles | 1 teaspoon chopped pimentos |
| 1 cup grated cheese | 3 tablespoons soft butter |
| 2 tablespoons mayonnaise | 1 teaspoon minced onions |
| Arrange the bread on a flat pan. Top with rest of the ingredients mixed together. Bake or broil until the tops are a slight brown. Serve. | |

In making those dainty cookies for fall teas use orange juice in place of the liquid called for in the regular recipe. A little grated orange and lemon rind also will add a subtle flavor.

Arlin W. Pitt Is County Chief of American Legion

Also Named Delegate to National Convention in New York City

Fremont—The county council of the American Legion held its monthly meeting Wednesday evening at the Fremont village hall. After the business meeting election of officers took place. Arlin W. Pitt, Fremont, was elected the new county commander, and Charles Yost, Waupaca, vice commander. Mr. Pitt was chosen a delegate to the national convention in New York City. He will leave for that city Friday. Luncheon was served after the meeting by the auxiliary unit of Wolf River Post No. 381. The next monthly meeting of the county council will be held at Clintonville.

the WORLD of STAMPS

BY JAMES B. HATCHER

The man who ordered thousands of Russians shot or mutilated, and shook with hysterical sobs as he did so, is being honored by the U. S. S. R. with a set of four stamps commemorating the 11th anniversary of his death.

Felix E. Dzerjinsky was not only a close friend and adviser of Lenin, but he headed the dread Cheka (state political police) and forerunner of the G. P. U. for about three years. People called him "the black pope of the revolution" because of his fanatical pursuit and destruction of those he considered enemies of the state. He developed an amazing spy system.

The revolution in 1917 freed him from a convict mine in Siberia. He went to Petrograd, joined the Bolsheviks and was elected to the central executive committee. Dzerjinsky himself devised the merciless plan of the Cheka, an organization to catch the state's enemies and judge them. Lenin approved and Dzerjinsky became "chief executioner" of the U. S. S. R.

Cuba Advertiser Sugar
The 40th anniversary of the raising of sugar cane in Cuba gives that West Indian republic an excuse to publicize its great industry by issuing a set of three label-size adhesives. Havana officials feel that the "importance" of the affair "justifies" the issue. The designs are divided diagonally, showing the caravels of Columbus in the upper portion. In the lower triangle, the 1-centavo green shows stalks of growing cane; the 2-centavo red shows an old-fashioned sugar mill, using ox-power; the 5-centavo blue, a modern sugar refinery.

The Philatelic society, Appleton High school stamp club, will reorganize at a meeting to be held Tuesday afternoon at the school. Officers will be elected and the program for the year will be authorized. The society had about 25 members last year and conducted several stamp auctions. Edward Radtke is faculty advisor.

Bridge Club Convenes At Marion Residence

Marion—The O. O. O. Bridge club met at the home of Mrs. Arnold Maes Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Anna Maes received the gift for high score and Mrs. Ed. J. For second high and the travelling prize. Mrs. Joe Miller was a guest of the club.

Mrs. Jim Spiegel, Mrs. Walter Wulk and Mrs. Anna Buhr were at Fremont, Tuesday on business concerning the organization of an American Legion auxiliary in that village.

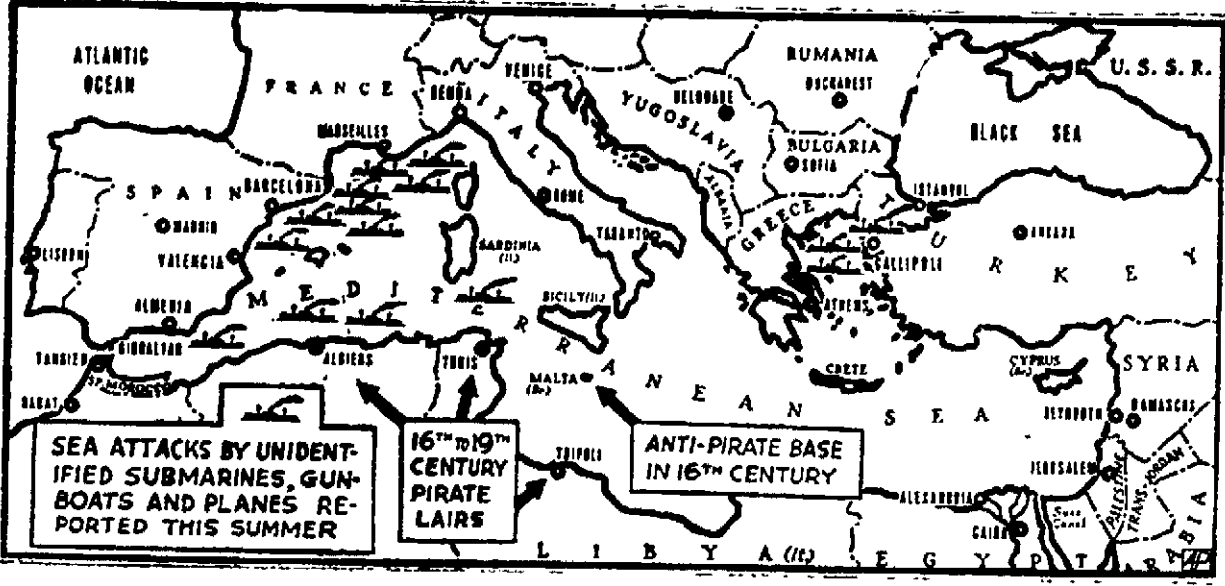

Dorothy and Annette Maes went to Milwaukee Tuesday where Dorothy will enroll as a senior at the Milwaukee Teachers' college and Annette will register as a freshman. Mrs. T. Leake was hostess to the contract bridge club Tuesday evening. High scores were made by Mrs. Jim Spiegel and Mrs. Arnold Maes.

Miss Kathryn Strader, 723 West Eighth street, is at St. Elizabeth hospital recovering from an appendicitis operation performed Tuesday.

Piracy in the Mediterranean Has Been Under Way, Off and On, For Centuries

The Old Man of the Mediterranean laughed and laughed when he heard that the French and the British were sending warships south to sink those damned pirates. It was an old story to the Old Man — this piracy business. As long as he can remember, pirates have been lurking — off and on — in rocky lairs along highly important Mediterranean sea trade routes. And most of that time the powers of the world, including the United States of America, have been sending expeditions to put the rascals to rout. Skipping Phoenician and Roman and all such ancient history, the Old Man flips a page to the year 1492. That stood for the discovery of America in your school book, but it stands also for the beginning of modern piracy as a big-time business in the Mediterranean.

Moors Get Their Chance
In 1492 Ferdinand and Isabella, who backed Christopher Columbus' well-publicized expedition, also kicked the Moors out of Spain. The Moors had lived a long time in Spain and didn't want to leave. They did the next best thing: they hung around Spanish shores as pirates, knocking off the peaceful traders and playing the very devil with freight rates.

Perfectly respectable African ports like Algiers, Tunis and Tripoli became sinister strongholds where the trade in bloody gold and white women was brisk and profitable.

Barbarossa Top Man
Among the first and greatest freebooters that this pirate trade developed were the brothers Barbarossa. Before long bad-acting elder brother Urui fought himself into an "unmarked grave." The younger, tougher — and smarter — brother went right on up. As he captured more and more women, ships and treasure and became king of Algiers, ruler of Tunis and high admiral of the Grand Turk himself, most of the Christian nations tried their hand at wiping him out.

The greatest ruler of them all, Charles V of the Holy Roman Empire, spent the early part of the 16th century sending one expedition after another to catch Barbarossa.

Malta a Police Base
Malta was the stronghold for the Knights of Malta who did their best to scourge the Moslem pirates, along with the rest of the heathen. (Funny thing, but the English who are now leading the charge against submarine "pirates" have one of their most important bases at Malta.)

Getting down to the 19th century, the pirates of northern Africa were still at it when the United States of America appeared. The United States, like some repaying tribute to Tripoli just to keep her tradesmen out of trouble. In 1810 the pasha wanted to hike the $23,000 ante and the United States objected. ("Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute.") Objections led to an expeditionary force and—the loss of the U. S. frigate "Philadelphia."

A New Problem Now
Stephen Decatur ("Our Country! May she always be right, but our country, right or wrong") made himself some fame by burning the "Philadelphia" as she lay captive, and returned to the scene with a man-sized fleet five years later. That time he made the pirates swear off American vessels for good.

Well, the pirating went on—and off—for 20 years more, although it was pretty well cleaned up by 1830. English sailors learned the combination against slant-sailed corsair ships. Now they have to figure out the under-water variety.

Footwear was in use more than 3,500 years ago, the ancients utilizing various materials such as pelts of animals, metals, grass, leaves, bark and wood. In some sections of the world heels were first used to keep the feet well above the burning desert sands.

MAN O WAR

Chaff'n Chatter

By Gordon R. McIntyre

A FEW days ago, while out at football practice, I ran into Doc Hegner and before long I was headed for the new high school where the doctor made the rounds with me in tow, from the tunnels in the basement to the roof.

Of course most of my interest lay in the new gymnasium which is getting along nicely. On first appearance the inside looked rather small but that's probably because the place is so wide. However, when one gets a view from the top he really sees that it's really a big room.

At the moment they have completed pouring concrete for the permanent seats around the room. There are three tiers and they'll easily permit view of the whole floor, even from the third row.

The glass walls on the south side and the lighting arrangements around the ceiling are going to make for a well lighted place and before I had finished my tour I felt much like the doctor — I couldn't wait to see the place completed. The whole thing looks just so good that when John M. Walter of the Press-Gazette comes down for the first game I'm going to insist that he take off his shoes before entering. It's going to be too nice a place to be tracked up with Green Bay mud.

In case you aren't aware—The football season begins Friday night which means I'm soon due to make my annual guesses. And what a lot of guesses they are. Or should we let the fans do the guessing, and offer a ticket to a Lawrence or high school game to whomever picks the correct scores for a certain number of games?

This Billy Schmitz of Madison, about whom they are writing all these nice football comments at the University of Wisconsin, is a nephew of the D. P. Steinhilber, Sr.

Chester "Swede" Johnston, Appleton's contribution to the Packers, wasn't hurt so badly in that game with the Cardinals last Sunday. He caught a knee for one thing and also bruised a shoulder which has been a jinx for some time. He should be ready to go again this week.

A few days ago, when Mickey Cochrane left on a trip to Europe with several prominent Detroit men, his last words to an eastern sports writer were about Charley Gehring, Tiger second baseman, whom Mickey suggested for the most valuable player award.

But here's how the scribe told about it:

Stout Jella, Gehring. Great ball player. No words were needed. His record spoke for him.

"Yeah, no words needed," said Mike. "But votes are needed. He ought to get that Valuable Player prize this year. You know, Charley's getting along. He might not have another great year. Gehring's had the prize twice. DiMaggio's got fourteen years ahead of him and."

The warning whistle blew to clear the ship of visitors.

"So long," said Mike, and when they hailed up the gangplank a little later he leaned over the rail and shouted his final orders:

"Vote for Gehring!"

Thinking of his men to the last, that was Black Mike, outward bound.

This Ed Smith, who'll be the Packers' new forward passer after Sunday, is a brother-in-law of Bob Pastor, the heavyweight boxer who went 15 rounds with Joe Louis last winter. It wasn't always umpires. During the mauve decade one man presided in all departments. Naturally, it was impossible for him to be right every time. Then, from about 1905 until 1915, two men officiated. Since that time there have been at least three umpires on duty in all major league contests. Result: greater accuracy, greater safety.

Carroll Gridders in Spirited Workout

Waukesha — Coach Elmer Lampe put his Carroll college football team through a spirited drill yesterday, touching off the session with a short scrimmage. The Pioneers, undefeated last fall, met Milwaukee State Teachers here Sept. 25.

An informal punting drill, held in the teeth of a strong wind, proved beyond doubt that the talented toe of Art Buck, senior back, had lost none of its cunning during the summer layoff. Buck averaged 50 yards on his kicks, most of them high, rolling spirals.

The tentative varsity lineup in the scrimmage session today included 11 lettermen. The ends were Krause and Thurner; Dana and Constant were at the tackles, A. McGrath and Perren filled in the guard posts and Gores was stationed at center. Captain Buck and Callihan were at the halves, Buck in the running halfback position. Cook performed at fullback and Roche filled the blocking quarter-back role.

Valley Classic Pin League Meeting Is Called for Monday

Reorganization of the Fox River Valley Classic Bowling league will be attempted at a meeting of representatives of interested teams, at the Colonial Wonder Bar, at 8 o'clock Monday evening, it has been announced.

The loop started last season and collapsed for various reasons. Many of the errors in the 1936 organization have been corrected. The loop will start later in the season because of the Packer games on Sundays, and plans to have a home and home schedule instead of having all teams roll at one bowling alley which "froze out" some of the teams from smaller cities.

It is hoped the league can have 14 teams from Green Bay, Appleton, Algoma, Sturgeon Bay, Two Rivers, Chilton, Kaukauna, Little Chute, Neenah-Menasha and Oshkosh.

Plenty of Seats Still Available For Packer Game

National Pro Champions Pointing for First Victory Sunday

GREEN BAY — Held to one touchdown in their first two games this season and without a victory in National Professional Football league competition, the Green Bay Packers today geared up their offense in preparation to meeting the Chicago Bears, who boast a line tougher and more durable than that of the Chicago Cardinals, victors over Green Bay last Sunday.

The Packers and Bears will collide for the 37th time since 1921 at City stadium next Sunday afternoon, before what may be the largest crowd ever to witness a football game in Green Bay.

Although there has been a steady stream of business at the Legion building ticket headquarters, thousands of good seats are yet unsold, and these will be the subject of a determined attack by Packer fans for the duration of the week.

Hinkle Ailing

In addition to Bob Monnett and Arnold Herber, two ailing passers, the Packer casualty list yesterday included Tiny Engbrechtsen, guard, and Clarke Hinkle, fullback. Engbrechtsen is bothered by a cold and fever, and was not in uniform yesterday, while Hinkle was more severely shaken up in the Cardinal game than was supposed at first.

Steady improvement of some of his men cheered Coach E. L. Lambeau, but found plenty of pessimism in the picture of the approaching contest with the Bears. The prospect of starting his league season with two straight defeats, as is highly possible, was extremely discouraging to the coach.

He voiced approval of the work done thus far by Herb Banet, the big Manchester back, who showed up well in the few minutes he worked against the Cardinals. He reeled off an 8-yard gain around end, blocked and tackled well, and called signals in excellent style. His passes didn't hit anything, but this is a common ailment of the Packers.

Russ Letlow, an underweight and mediocre guard last season, is playing great ball, and Lambeau mentioned his work, too, along with that of Guard Zud Schammel and Tackle Lyle Sturgeon, new men who appear to be fitting well into the Packer picture.

"The team as a whole," he added, "looks more than 75 per cent of normal. It hasn't started to click in championship form, and until it does, won't start winning."

Lambeau is doubtful as to how much service Monnett will be able to see in Sunday's game.

End Run Feature

Paul Miller, whose end runs were a feature at last Sunday's game, will have a chance to try his specialty against a promising set of wingmen as the National league possesses. The Bears are invading Green Bay with six ends, all of whom are expected to see action against the Packers.

Probably most of the work will be handled by the veteran Bill Karr, former West Virginia luminary, and Edgar (Egg) Manske, late of Northwestern university but more recently a member of the Philadelphia Eagles. Ends appearing with the Chicagoans for the first time will be Henry Hammond, Southwestern; Richard Plasman, Vanderbilt; George Wilson, Northwestern; and Lester McDonald, Nebraska.

Three centers will test the Packer line plungers, the group including Ed Skoroski, former Purdue ace, who is making his pro football debut. Other centers on the Bear squad are Frank Sullivan of Louisiana (New Orleans), and Frank Bausch, of Kansas.

C HICAGO — (U) — Francis A. Schmidt, who taught the "razzle dazzle" style of football offense at Texas Christian before he brought it to Ohio State, is cooking up a new lesson in trickery for the Texans.

The lesson will be ready by Sept. 25 when Texas Christian goes to Ohio State for the Buckeyes' opening game.

Minnesota's Gophers held another touchdown parade yesterday, the varsity romping through a mixture of third and fourth stringers for seven scores. Wilbur Moore, a right halfback, was the standout, getting away for four touchdowns of 40 yards or more. At Illinois, Bob Zupke's selected squad of 22 men engaged in a 30-minute scrimmage that resulted in three touchdowns for the regulars.

Michigan and Northwestern concentrated on aerial offensive maneuvers and Indiana spent a session on pass defense. Captain Don Heap, Bernie Jefferson and Jack Ryan did some accurate passing for the defending champion Wildcats while Starke Ritchie and Norman Purucker handled the bulk of the tossing for the Michicans.

Coach Bo McMillan decided to get an early start on developing Indiana's air defense, remembering that all but one of the touchdowns scored against the Hoosiers in 1936 was accomplished by passes.

Four Purdue teams went through long scrimmage, with Tony Juska, junior fullback, again attracting coach Mal Elward's attention. Iowa whipped through its first scrimmage with coach Irl Tibbs using a backfield composed of Nile Kinrick, Al Schenk, Buss Dean and Bush Lamb, the latter the only veteran.

The signal calling post, stood out offensively for the opposing squad. Thirty-three sophomores are candidates.

TUTTLE PRESS company bowling team served notice on the Industrial league at the Arcade alleys last night, that it's going to be a tough season for the rest of the teams. For the Tuttles went out and copped three games and garnered all the team and individual honors for the evening.

Bob Lesselyong smacked a 255 for high game for the evening and a 623 for high series. The team rolled a 1,021 for high team game and a 2,815 for high match score.

The Tuttles rolled the Power company which came close only in the last game. H. J. Weller's 195 and 477 were tops for the Powers.

Freddie Yelg hit a 201 and 215 and a 604 series as the Wadham's Oils won a pair from the Appleton Machine company. Willard Schmitt's 485 series was high for the Machines.

Al Ayres rolled a 213 game and 551 series in the Telephone company's double win over the Fox River. Roy Reinke had a 223 and 523 and L. Grishaber a 209 and 515 for the Fox River.

Tuttle Cabs tried to emulate their betters (oh yeah!) but the best they could do was take two from the Atlas Printers. Chet Merkile rolled a 523 and Blaskowski a 520 for the Cabs. Jerry Zapp had a 508 for the Printers.

Charley Pond's teachers were taken down the line by the Wire Works in two games. Earl Joecks had a 529 series and R. Weber a 205 game for the Wires. Ken Smith rolled a 507 series for the Ponds.

Brandt Grease Balls whipped the Schlaefers Hardware in two. Ed Luedike clipped off a 515 series for the Grease Ballers and Nels Nutting a 389 for the Hardwares.

Coated Paper whipped the Atlas Embossers in two games. W. Schmidt had a 512 series for the Coated Papers and Des Schade a 495 and Nabefeld a 494 for the Embossers.

Post-Crescent keggers figure they accomplished something taking two from the high-powered Woolen Mills. Irv Weise smacked a 222 and 558 for the newspaper lads while Clem DeYoung had a 209 and 530 and W. Reifke a 207 for the Woolens.

Honors and New Cars Can't Interfere With Hartnett's Baseball

Chicago (AP)—There will be no Gabby Hartnett "Day" as long as Chicago is in the National league pennant battle, not even for a shiny new automobile—if the Cubs' great catcher has his way.

A group of Hartnett admirers had planned to honor Gabby on Sept. 23, date of the final game of the Cubs' last series this season with the league-leading New York Giants. A new automobile was to have been presented to him. But, said Hartnett:

"I am deeply appreciative of the desires of my friends, but the Cubs are in the thick of the pennant fight and I would rather not be distracted from the business at hand—helping the Cub win the National league pennant and the world series."

The meet will be held one mile east of, and a mile and a half north of Millhome, off Highway 32, and four miles east of Kiel on Highway 149 on the O. C. Heideman farm, on the south side of Cedar Lake. Signs will be posted along the route and every one is welcome to attend.

The association has planted 27 coon this last week, and they expect to do bigger and better things in the way of fox and coon hunting each year.

the Bluejays, however, must be developed.

The veterans are headed by Al Kolasinski, halfback, and Elton Grimm, tackle, co-captains, and Bervin Schneider, all-conference center. Other returning lettermen are Fred Yaley and Henry Landstrom, tackles; David Buksyk, William Heckrodt and Lawrence Malouf, guards; Joseph Michalkiewicz, center; Jack Finch and Robert Floyd, halfbacks; Donald Blaney and Donald Drucker, fullbacks.

Among the new candidates Ray Henk, 203 pounds, has shown well at fullback and guard. Tate, 172 pounds, also has been used at fullback. Earl Block has been giving Schneider a battle for the pivot position. Henry Oleswalski has shown the most development among the ends while Kenneth Du Charme seems likely to pair with Kolasinski at the halfback posts.

Neenah to Be Light

Coach George Christoph is sending his crew of 40 Neenah High school gridders through intensive drills this week for the Red Rockers' opening game at New London, a Northeastern Wisconsin conference game.

The Redmen have 11 lettermen returning from last year's squad as well as other promising material which saw action last season.

Neenah will have a comparatively light eleven but from all indications it will have plenty of speed. Barring unpredictable mishaps, the Neenah eleven anticipates another good season this year, according to Coach Christoph.

The returning veterans include Harold Borenz, center, and Dale Dodge, tackle, co-captains; George Johnson, halfback; Frank Haertl, halfback; Dan Schmidt, guard; Bernt Johnson, halfback; Warren Kottner, fullback; Edsel Birdsall, fullback; Harold Etker, quarterback; James Anderson, tackle.

Won't Lose All Games, Stacy

As usual Coach D. N. Stacy of New London says his team won't lose all its games and won't get beat more than 20 to 0 when it does.

The squad used in scrimmage this week sported all seniors but two and five of the Older boys were lettermen. That flashy guard of last year, Phil Clark, and Ike Poepeke, a junior in his third year of football, are the two mainstays of the team. Poepeke last year's halfback will move into the quarterback position to fill the post vacated by Ed Denning. Henry McDaniel is another senior halfback who returns with a good record. Rounding out the backfield is Bernard, a senior who did things in his last year, and who is making his first appearance in football.

Harold Hayward is the only experienced letterman in the line and has been moved from center to tackle. Evan Stern earned a letter last year because of an injury to another regular. In practice he has been holding down a guard position with Paul Knapstein, a junior with little experience.

The rest of the first squad is composed of relatively inexperienced reserves of last year. Stewart Hamberg, a junior, and Frances Meinhardt are booked for the ends with the latter also doing the punting. John Restle has been placed at center. With Hayward at tackle will be Leland Dohrstein, one of the few light-heavies of the squad.

Kaukauna Won't Repeat

Prospects for a repetition of the 1936 season when Coach Paul E. Little's Kaukauna High school footballers won the Northeastern conference championship are poor this year. From the championship team of last year but four players have returned who might be called veterans. In the line only Bill Peterson, rangy right end, and Leo Lambie, left tackle, are back, while in the backfield captain Bill McCormick and Cliff Vanevenhoven will be depended upon for a major share of this year's running and passing.

Practices this year also have shown that it is not going to be easy to develop reserves. From last year George Hilgenberg, right guard replacement, now is at that position. Carl Pendergast, who has understudied for three years at center, is the regular pivot man. Leroy Jiggs Frank, a big tackle who saw some action last year is at right tackle, with Floyd Hooyman of last year's squad, a candidate for an end position.

From the freshman ranks have come Bill Alger, who apparently has cinched a starting position at end, R. Steffen, light, but a good prospect as a running back, and Carl Giordana, blocking back, whom Coach Little expects to develop into a fine player.

The squad has been weakened by the failure of Bob Van Drasck, hard driving fullback to report, and Robert Nicson, who saw much service at quarterback last year, came around yesterday for the first time and will not be ready until the Clintonville game.

Truckers May Surprise

Clintonville annually has been the underdog in the Northeastern race but there's no reason to believe it will be the door mat for all teams again this year. Last year's squad under Coach Ray Heil showed improved form and almost pulled a couple upsets. The team was built around Bob Martin, clever back, and he's missing, but with seven lettermen around whom to build and eight boys who just missed letters, the Truckers aren't feeling so badly.

Injury to Mancuso Proved Lucky Break for League-Leading Giants

BY SI DFEDER Associated Press Sports Writer

A ROUND and about in the baseball business today they're saying the luckiest thing that happened to the Giants this year was the injury that put their first-string catcher, Gus Mancuso, in the hospital back in July.

If Gus hadn't been laid up with a broken finger, the Giants never would have "found" Harry (the Hawk) Danning—who had been warming the Giant bench for only six years.

And if they hadn't come across Harry, sitting there minding his own business day after day, it is extremely doubtful that the Giants would be up there sporting a 21-game lead for the National league pennant at this writing.

Harry is the hero of the piece because of the way he has brought the right-handed department of the Giants' pitching staff out of the doldrums, and because he's been waving that big bat of his in rival burlers' faces until they're scared to death of him.

From the moment he put on his mask and pad, the pitching began to look up.

For instance, there were prince Hal Schumacher and Harry Gumbert, who had been about as much use as a couple of bats with holes in them. Since Harry began handling them, Schumacher has started nine games, completed seven and won six, while Gumbert has taken half a dozen decisions.

Davis Gives Hits

Schumacher did it again with Danning yesterday. He turned in a neat nine-hit effort while his mates clubbed the Pirates, 7-2. Since the Cubs also won their game, taking a 5-2 decision from the Bees behind Curt Davis' six-hitter, the pennant situation remained as was, in this form:

| | W. | L. | Games To |
|--------|----|----|-------------|
| Giants | 81 | 51 | Behind Play |
| Cubs | 80 | 56 | 21 |

The Yankees had their American league lead shaved to 94 games over the Tigers. They split a twin bill with the Cleveland Indians, taking the nightcap, 3-1, with Monte Pearson pitching a four-hitter, while the Tribe came through 5-4, in the ten-inning opener, although Bob Feller was belted to the showers. The Tigers won their single game with the Senators, 4-3, on the strength of a three-run rally in the ninth.

The White Sox got to Lefty Grove and topped the Red Sox, 5-3. The Athletics took their opener, 8-2, from St. Louis, but dropped the nightcap, 3-1, as Bill Trotter won his first victory of the year.

The Cincinnati Reds routed the Dodgers, 6-0, in their opener, and then dropped the afterpiece, 8-5. The Phillies and Cardinals went 13 innings to a 6-all draw before darkness halted the proceedings.

St. Norbert Sees One of Its Best Years on Grid

Coach Mickey McCormick Has 21 Lettermen: Last Year's Team Lost Only to Carroll College

(Editor's note—This is the sixth of a series of stories on Wisconsin college and university football prospects, written for The Associated Press by the coaches.)

BY FRANCIS J. MCCORMICK

St. Norbert College Football Coach Mickey McCormick, who has coached the team since 1935, says that this year's team will have a football season this fall which should stand up favorably with any ever turned out here.

With 21 lettermen returning there is no reason to believe that the team will not be as strong, if not stronger, than last year's squad which won seven games and lost only to Carroll college at Waukesha. Lost through graduation are Captain Eddie Smith, quarterback, and Marcel Rademacher, center.

My most serious problem may be losing the freshmen as a source of material for the varsity. While St. Norbert had a three-year eligibility rule, the regulation barring freshmen from varsity competition in all forms of athletics will be effective for the first time this fall.

Backfield intact

Although Smith will be missing, and two others have been lost through scholastic difficulties, the varsity backfield will be just about intact.

Vernon Ellis, Juneau, and Val Trepanier, Iron Mountain, Mich., speed artists, both return. Two sophomores, Werner Finke, Mayville, and Phil McNulty, Columbus, should have a great year, and Bob Toonen, DePere, will be back at his fullback post after a year's absence.

Steve Beillie, Rhinelander, letterman for the past two seasons, is available to fill Smith's vacancy at quarterback, and Ray Sladky, Marinette, is a sixth letterman who will be on hand.

Up from the reserves and promising to crowd some of the regular backs will be Bill Hickey, Juneau; Bob Hugo, Chilton; Jim Cotta, Gillett and Al Ulrich, Chicago.

John Platt of Shorewood academy will be called upon for most of the work in the center of the line. To assist him, Phil Kafka, Antigo, will be shifted from a tackle position.

Three veteran guards and a newcomer of considerable promise will flank the center. They are Nick Mickettine, Hermansville, Mich.; George Waldron, Green Bay; Sterling Shipka, Oconto, lettermen, and Bob Craven, Green Bay, who showed well during spring practice last year.

Kennelly at Tackle

The tackle assignments should be in capable hands with four lettermen back. Ted Kafka, Antigo, Norb Coonen, Dundas, Harold Neuman, Blackwell, and Tom Kennelly, Chicago, will carry the burden.

Five lettermen return to the end positions to make that department the most strongly fortified on the team. They are Herman Moritz, Green Bay; Karl Kant, Clintonville; Bob Hartman, Juneau; Marus Schumacher, Stockbridge; and Amelio Palloconi, Iron Mountain, Mich.

Our schedule is as follows: Sept. 18—St. Mary's college at Winona, Minn.; Sept. 25—At Stevens Point State Teachers College; Oct. 2—At Milwaukee State Teachers college; Oct. 9—Carroll college at Waukesha; Oct. 16—Gustavus Adolphus college at DePere (homecoming); Oct. 23—St. Norbert freshmen; Oct. 30—Open; Nov. 6—St. Viator college at Bourbonnais, Ill.; Nov. 13—Michigan Tech (Houghton) at DePere.

Because we are building a stadium, only two home games will be played. With the exception of Gustavus Adolphus, all this year's opponents were played last year, all were defeated by St. Norbert except Carroll. Carroll won, 19-6. Last year's team scored 147 points to 42 for its opponents. Jordan college and Oshkosh State Teachers college of last year's schedule have been dropped.

Brewers Beaten In A. A. Playoff

Babe Herman Clouts Homer in Tenth to Give Toledo 6-5 Win

Chicago (AP)—The American association playoff situation today was right back where it started, with home runs responsible.

The Minneapolis Millers, thanks to an eighth inning home run by Stanley Spence which accounted for a 4 to 3 victory last night, were all square with the league champion Columbus Red Birds, and Toledo, with the help of a pair of round-trippers by Babe Herman and one by Bob Coleman, defeated Milwaukee, 6 to 5, in a rousing 10-inning struggle, to even their series.

Spence's smash broke up a fine pitching battle between Elve Bean of the Millers, and Johnny Chambers of the Flock, and nullified some stout hitting by Enos Slaughter, the league's champion batsman. Slaughter hit a homer with a man on in the third and produced a single in the fifth to drive in the third Columbus run. The Millers tied the score with a three-run blast in the sixth and cashed in with Spence's circuit swat.

Herman's first homer helped keep the Mud Hens in the battle, and Coleman tied the score in the ninth. The Babe stepped up in the tenth with a man on, after Milwaukee had scored a run in its half of the extra frame, and banged the ball out of the park for the winning runs.

Only two home games will be played. With the exception of Gustavus Adolphus, all this year's opponents were played last year, all were defeated by St. Norbert except Carroll. Carroll won, 19-6. Last year's team scored 147 points to 42 for its opponents. Jordan college and Oshkosh State Teachers college of last year's schedule have been dropped.

Bay Youth Stars In U. W. Grid Drill

Bert Conley, Sophomore Tackle, Shows Lot Of Ability

Madison (AP)—A fine display of defensive strength featured the University of Wisconsin football squad's second scrimmage of the season yesterday.

Particularly outstanding were sophomores Bert Conley, Green Bay, tackle, and Ed Wagner, Cudahy, end. This pair consistently piled up running attempts of a hard charging backfield for little or no gain.

Sprints of sensational running were shown by sophomores Ralph Moeller, Watertown, and Tom Gradinski, Milwaukee, halfbacks, on the second play of the afternoon. Moeller broke loose for an 80 yard run and a touchdown. Thereafter, until late in the scrimmage, the strong defensive line held a backfield consisting of Moeller, Gradinski, Vince Garre of Port Edwards, quarterback, and Herb Paul of Rice Lake, fullback.

Most noticeable in the closing half hour was the improved blocking of Garre. The offensive eleven, in a final spurt, tallied four times, twice each by Moeller and Gradinski.

The defensive forward wall consisted of Wagner and Jim Rioridan, Rhinelander, ends; Conley and Abe Rorck, Racine, tackles; John Doyle, Erie, Pa., and Ed Pick, West Bend, guards, and Orville Fischer, Fargo, N. D., center.

Tough Schedule, Green Reserves Worry Waldorf

BY EARL HILLIGAN

EVANSTON, ILL.—(AP)—Lynn Waldorf won't come right out and admit he's singing the blues—but he does concede feeling distinctly "bearish" about his 1937 crop of Northwestern Wildcats. "Our schedule is 25 per cent harder and our material is 25 per cent weaker than last season," and that's how I honestly sum things up," said the mentor who led the Wildcats to the 1936 Big Ten championship.

"Here's a frank brief of our case," he continued. "We are not as good as we were last season; we won't do as well in conference competition. All we are trying to do is go ahead with what we have and turn in an interesting team."

Ten of those last two words—Tate, note of those last two words—Ohio State, Michigan, Purdue, Ohio State, Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota and Notre Dame and don't bank too strongly on meeting a docile Wildcat holding out its claws to be clipped. For there's a sophomore silver lining behind the dark clouds which rolled up after graduation exercises last June, and the silver lining still is well-stitched with experienced veterans.

Lost 16 Lettermen

The Wildcats did lose 16 lettermen, 11 of them linemen. From tackle to tackle only three letterwinners remain. Gone are such stars as Steve Reid, All-American guard, Les Schreiber, Dewitt Gibson and Park Wray, tackles, Carl Devry, guard and Leon Volter, center. Gone, too, are Steve Toth and Don Geyer, the "twin fullbacks" who alternated at the position and placed 1-2 in the conference scoring race.

"So you see that we have a long way to go," said Waldorf. "The fullback, center and tackle positions are giving us plenty of worry. We are weaker in experienced reserves, and it was our reserve strength which carried us along last season."

A young blond husky, Jack Ryan of Milwaukee, may solve the fullback problem. This 18-year-old sophomore son of a former Wisconsin coach, looks so good to Waldorf that he was placed at No. 1 fullback the first day he showed up for practice. He passes well and apparently knows where to go when to get that ball. Jay Laskay of Lorain, Ohio, and Ollie Babcock of Evanston, first year men, also are getting plenty of attention at fullbacks.

Soph at One Tackle

Ervin Wagner, understudy to Fuller last season, is counted on to hold down the center job capably, while veteran Bob Volter will team with sophomore Nick Curtich at the tackles. Mike Calvano of Waukesha, Wis., and Dick Wells, both with experience, will be at the guards, with the dependable John Kovatch of South Bend, Ind., and Cleo Diehl at the flanks. Don Geritz, Hal Method, Frank Young and Ted Grete all are sophomore linemen of promise.

The Wildcat backfield probably will be composed of Fred Vanzo, whose defensive work when Wisconsin whipped Minnesota last year was a season highlight. At quarter, the speedy Don Heap and Bernie Jefferson at the halves, and Ryan at fullback. Heap will run the team, help Ryan out with the passing and aid Jefferson with the punting chore.

Cross Stitch Ensembles Help Modern Kitchen

The kitchen ensemble is a modern necessity and cross-stitch transfers help the needleworker to make her own.

BY ELIZABETH MAY BLONDEL

The kitchen ensemble is practically a necessity in the up-to-date kitchen. And for the young bride or bride-to-be, it is an excellent idea—it gives her a chance for handiwork, but no more than she wants.

The curtains and a table cover for breakfast use make a fine ensemble. And a set of dish towels, a chair-back or a set of pot-holders may be added.

Monograms and motifs in outline or cross-stitch make no great demands on craftsmanship. Designs come ready to stamp with a hot iron and the variety is limited only by your ingenuity.

For monograms, one, two or three initials may be used. The initials, in outline, are set in a wreath of cross-stitch flowers. The letters come 1 1/2 inches high, in six alphabets.

A few cross-stitch motifs trim the curtains and two of the colors used in them are carried around the edges. The entire edge is first worked in widely spaced button-holing in one color; a straight up-and-down stitch is worked in the center of each buttonhole space in the other color.

For perfect cross-stitch, the crosses should run in the same direction and always touch.

Edward's Still King Some Tailors Suspect

BY ROBERT S. STROTHER

London—(AP)—The big question before gentlemen's tailors, gentlemen's gentlemen and gentlemen is whether Edward VIII also abdicated as king of Saville row.

Long before he became king of England, Edward assumed sovereignty over the men's fashion world, and the tailors are wondering if he isn't likely to keep that title.

Since the coronation some of their number have been trying to build up George VI as the style leader. An expert writing in "Men's Wear" describes the new king's garb as "a triumph of selection and harmony."

"He wore a double-breasted suit of dark-gray worsted with attractive herring-bone pattern—a cloth of substance.

"Jacket buttoned two and fitted easily. A white double collar went with blue-striped shirt and gray tie of Greek key pattern. Border of handkerchief matched shirt. Trousers were medium width and turned up at the bottom."

Other writers agreed that the king's aim in dress "seems to be neatness allied with style."

But the tailors, recalling the scores of trends touched off by the Duke of Windsor, are waiting warily for him to emerge from seclusion. Unless he starts wearing overalls they can't be sure that the king isn't king any more.

Class Will Deal in Colors and Designs

A course dealing with the fundamental principles of color and design and their practical applications in everyday life will be taught at the Vocational school this fall, probably on Monday and Wednesday nights.

Peter Giovannini will be the instructor in the course for persons interested in commercial advertising, printing, decorating, painting, and textile design. The study also is designed to train persons how to buy more selectively.

THAT last year highway accidents cost the lives of more than 38,000 men, women and children?

THAT a million more were injured?

THAT more than 40,000 of these deaths and injuries were caused directly by punctures, blowouts and skidding due to smooth, worn, unsafe tires?

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS—eight extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process. Growers to Vote On Marketing Plan For Late Potatoes

Balloting to Take Place at County Agent's Office and Dale

Outagamie county farmers will vote Sept. 20, 21 and 22 on the proposed potato marketing agreement plan at the office of R. C. Swanson, county agricultural agent in the courthouse. Balloting will take place each of the three days from 9 o'clock in the morning until 5 in the afternoon. Balloting also may be done during the same hours at Moxie hall, Dale.

The balloting will be conducted by the county agricultural conservation committee and the referendum is to determine whether Wisconsin and other growers in the four late potato producing areas for which marketing agreements have just been tentatively approved, favor the issuance of orders making the agreements binding upon all handlers of potatoes produced in these areas. All growers producing potatoes for sale will be eligible to vote in the referendum.

"Every potato grower," Swanson said, "is urged to cast a ballot in the referendum and express his opinion on the measures proposed to prevent further declines in potato prices. The decline in the prices of potatoes is a result of one of the largest crops on record."

The purpose of the marketing agreement plan as outlined by federal officials, is to improve prices to growers by withholding from interstate shipment potatoes not meeting the requirements for U. S. No. 2 grade and which are less than 1 1/2 inches in diameter; also if growers deem it necessary, by withholding other low grade potatoes from interstate shipment. The program also proposes federal-state inspection of all potatoes shipped from the areas concerned.

Growers will also be asked to vote on whether or not they wish to operate with acreage goals.

Hollywood News And Gossip

BY ROBBIN COONS

Hollywood—Anatole Litvak is different from most directors. He owns a whistle. Maybe one or two other directors own whistles but this is a stag horn whistle and he keeps the chain fastened to his lapel. He blows it instead of yelling "Cut" or "That's a daisy" or "Sinko, let's try again."

He is a young man as directors go. Going on 30. They say he is a bit standoffish but mellow with acquaintance and has been known to give his assistant or publicity man a friendly pat on the shoulder. Besides blowing a whistle, Mr. Litvak also plays the piano. He learned when he was five, in Russia where he was born and he plays very well indeed. He was mixed up in the revolution but so far has refused to divulge what he did or which side he was on, the white or the reds. As a peace-loving fellow he may not have fought at all.

Dates Miriam Hopkins

He is medium-sized with a large crop of hair. At 13 he began his dramatic career as a student in the state dramatic school at Petrograd. It's Leningrad now but he still calls it Petrograd. At 24 he was a character actor of note. Directed plays and wrote them too. His plays were the kind of little tragic, earnest, and not a little tragic.

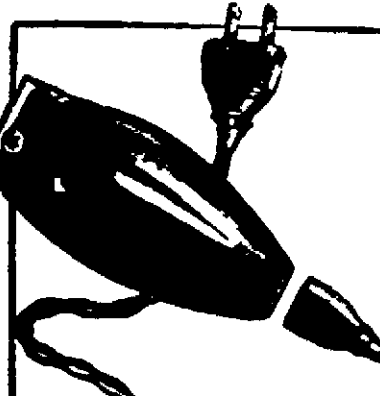

In Hollywood generally he is known, first, as the fellow who goes with Miriam Hopkins, and second, as the fellow who's directing "Tonight's Our Night." He started dating Miriam while he was directing her in his first Hollywood picture, "The Woman I Love." He is not known especially for that one. But he liked the French film, "L'Equipe," on which "The Woman I Love" was based. He made that, too.

In Hollywood's inner circles where memories go back farther Litvak is known as director of "Be Mine Tonight," the picture that made Jan Kiepura famous. In these circles they recall also that he made his first under the Soviet regime in Russia and it was called "Himitsu and Dollars." But he thinks his finest picture was "Mayerling," in which Charles Boyer was starred.

Good Wives Keep Eye on Back of Hubby's Neck

BY BETTY CLARKE

Are you one of those wives who insists on giving her husband a last-minute brushing-down as he dashes for the morning train? Or is your obsession well-shined shoes?

In either case, you're probably not appreciated by the head of the family, but you certainly deserve an A for energy.

That well-groomed look is something the masculine portion of humanity isn't born with. It has to be achieved—with a great deal of effort.

About Haircuts And if you can do their bit to remind husbands—tactfully—that their haircut has been better days, more power to them.

A leading personnel manager watches three things about the appearance of men he interviews. Haircuts and shaves first; hands next; then shoes.

A daily shave goes without saying. Twice a day, if your husband is one of those dark heroes with a blue shadowed chin, (He can get a rest on his vacation.)

Haircuts, depending on the speed with which his hair grows. Bi-weekly is customary. And do tell your husband to persuade his barber to use the clippers intelligently. He doesn't need to look like a shaved pig when he steps out of the barber chair.

Nail File Reminder When it comes to hands, too many men don't realize that a nail file exists. They take the garden shears, and hack off the nails right down to the quick. Saves them having to clean them, they say. They cut hangnails off, too—one of the best ways to promote a newer and better hangnail.

If you can, persuade your husband to carry a pocket nail file. He probably won't rebel too much at using a nail brush when he's scrubbing up. So all you have to do is get him to push the cuticle down around the nails occasionally after washing.

Shoe shines he probably takes to with greater ease. He may be careless with white shoes—but it's fall now, so that trouble is over.

But don't let this concern over good grooming turn you into a nagging wife. If you pester him, he'll soon ignore you. Or sue for divorce. And comparisons with your best friend's husband are out. That's not being subtle.

scene is taken. He seldom takes a scene less than 10 times and he out-Yonned Sternberg on one scene by making 40 takes. But that was because there was a Pekingese in the scene and she didn't understand about cues.

He keeps his camera running forth and back on tracks. He likes the effect of motion achieved. He likes crane shots almost as well and sits up there with the cameraman.

He dislikes noise and everyone is quiet on his sets. Noise annoys him, gives him the jitters. He can't concentrate when folks are chewing the fat. So when he wants quiet he blows that little shrill-toned stag horn whistle.

Manitowoc Fund Case Up at Hearing Friday

Madison—(4)—The state public service commission Wednesday asked Manitowoc officials to confer here at 9 o'clock next Friday morning on the city's demand for a $60,000 payment from the surplus of the Manitowoc municipal electric plant.

The city had received that amount from the Manitowoc Utilities commission last year as a return upon its investment in the plant and also anticipated a $80,000 return for its 1937 budget.

The public service commission was advised by the utility management that certain necessary improvements, including a water intake will preclude payment of $60,000 to the city this year.

The state commission said it would make no ruling until it had obtained the views of both sides at Friday's meeting.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE AP Feature Service Writer Woods Hole, Mass.—(4)—One he-man story which the wives don't believe is maybe true scientifically.

It is the one about the golf course being cooler on a blistering hot day than staying at home in a chair. Some wives even worry.

How cool you feel, and even how safe you are in heat, depends partly on how fast your body loses heat. The story about the golf course gets support from experiments on heat loss, reported in the Collecting Net by Dr. Eugene F. Dubois, of Cornell Medical College and Dr. James D. Hardy, Russell Sage Institute of Pathology.

They were able for the first time to measure loss of heat by "convection" that is by a breeze. A breeze removes from 10 to 15 per cent of the body's heat.

But, with moderate exercise, this heat loss, from either wind or the body's own movement in air, may rise to 25 or 30 per cent. The extra 15 per cent coolness the golfer is talking about.

SEEK BAN ON BANNERS

Portland, Ore. — When the city council placed a fee on street banners it thought it would rid the streets of that form of advertising. Instead revenue averaging $2,000 a year poured into the treasury.

But one commissioner still doesn't want banners, even at a profit. He proposes an ordinance prohibiting all except those advertising charity events.

FLAME TRAIL

SYNOPSIS: Kay Crandon of the Lazy Nine impulsively hires Ted Gaynor, a jobless puncher. He helps her fight Josh Hastings, a "friendly" neighbor who wants to get her ranch and marry Kay. Ted and Scraps Johnson, a cowboy who molests Kay, shoot it out, wounding each other. Hastings sneaks up and kills Scraps with Ted's gun. Arrested, Ted is tried for Scraps' murder, but Kay stops the trial by technical protest. Ted learns Hastings has kidnapped Kay, so he makes a daring dash for freedom and escapes the posse which is taking him back to Montana for a second trial.

Back and forth they rocked, Ted still hanging on like grim death to the gun arm of his opponent, and struggling for position to land a telling blow with his left. Unable to make out anything in the darkness, he hit out blindly. To his own intense surprise his first thud was sickening force against a jaw bone, and the next instant the man he had been struggling with slumped at his feet, unconscious.

Ted seized the stranger's bandanna and his own, and bound his wrists and ankles. Then he pulled his victim's gun out of its holster and moved swiftly toward the ruined smithy.

For what might have been minutes, or might have been hours after Josh Hastings left her, Kay lay on the smithy floor in a stupor of despair. Long before her temporary physical paralysis lessened, her mind waited to painful realization of her situation, and to a flashing review of the succession of events leading up to it.

Through it all, ran the main theme of hurt bewilderment at Ted's behavior. Her own personal hopes had revived involuntarily at the statement that it had been a "red-headed girl" that Ted had fought for, Tom Runyon, whether delicately or unknowingly, had put her on the wrong trail, and it had seemed for one glorious moment that all her wild jealousy had been unfounded.

But how explain Ted's curt refusal to see her, and the scornful

Potato Crop Agreement Is Discussed at Waupaca

Waupaca—An "educational" meeting was conducted at the city hall Wednesday by W. C. Oakie of the United States Department of Agriculture for the purpose of clarifying the proposed provisions of the marketing agreement which is concerned with the 1937 yield of potatoes. The meeting at Waupaca was the first of four to be held in the major potato-producing counties, Langlade, Portage, Waushara and Waupaca, the meetings in each county to precede a three-day ballot.

The regulars as to their own experience. The regulars seem to have recovered from their afternoon of errors last Saturday at Chilton and are on their way to becoming a real ball team. A much better spirit seems to be present this week among the squad. Tonight a chalk squad will be given to the players, and the football suits to be used in the games this fall passed out.

lotting period, during which time potato growers and handlers must turn in a formal vote to the county agent's office.

Mr. Oakie explained and discussed the agreement in detail, summarizing it as "essentially a contract between handlers and the secretary of agriculture to ban the interstate shipment of cut potatoes, and also, if the control committee should seek it, to limit shipment further by prohibiting the shipment of U. S. grades 2, Commercial, and 1B."

An open forum revealed the apparent agreement of the growers that they would have not sold their cut potatoes, anyway, intending to utilize them as cheap feed, and that they hoped the further restriction provisions of the agreement would be enforced. Only thus, with better and fewer potatoes marketed in all commercial potato producing regions, could they hope for a more normal price in a year when it is estimated that production will exceed 403 million bushels, and in this manner seek to "give potatoes a purchasing power with respect to articles that farmers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of potatoes during the period of August, 1913-July, 1929," as stated in the preamble to the agreement.

At the close of the morning session farmers were given ballots for the referendum on which they were asked to indicate whether they were in favor of establishing a potato acreage goal for each commercial potato farm in connection with the 1938 agricultural conservation program.

Open Assault Case Involving Former Kaukauna Mayor

Testimony Taken in Municipal Court Before Judge Thomas H. Ryan

Trial of John Niesen, former Kaukauna mayor, Oscar Alger and Frank Femal, Kaukauna aldermen, charged with assault and battery by Judge Niesen, another Kaukauna alderman, opened this morning in municipal court before Judge Thomas H. Ryan.

Opening statements were made by attorneys representing the plaintiff and the defendants and the taking of testimony began. Recross was declared at noon and the case will be resumed at 1:30 this afternoon.

The charges against the three men arose out of an altercation in a Kaukauna tavern the night of April 16 in which Niesen claims he was knocked down and received blows on the face, suffering a fractured nose and a rash in his cheek. The defendants have pleaded not guilty.

Richard Schwin, Kaukauna, was the first to testify and Arnold Vanderloop, operator of the tavern in which the alleged altercation took place, was called to the stand as the recess was called.

Approached by Niesen, Schwin testified that he was in the Gus Bauer tavern the night of April 16 with Alderman Otto Laetke, who had been declared winner of the aldermanic election at a council meeting earlier in the evening after a recount of votes in the Second ward.

Niesen approached him, he said, and said he wanted to talk to him. Asking him to go into the Vanderloop tavern to find out if Niesen was there, Niesen gave him 50 cents to buy a drink, Schwin said. When he told Niesen Niesen was in the tavern, Schwin testified Niesen said:

"Well, that fellow is going to get the damndest licking he ever got in his life."

Schwin said he then returned to the Bauer tavern.

Two members of the 6-man jury drawn Monday were excused and William Bauer, 1320 W. Elm street, and Fred Beyer, 116 W. Wisconsin avenue, were named in their places. Other members of the jury are Lawrence Reinke, 908 N. Morrison street; Ray Feavel, 624 W. Franklin street; John Slattery, 221 E. McKinley street, and Frank Kirk, 123 W. College avenue.

Valencia, Spain—(AP)—An insurgent air bombardment of the Valencia waterfront last night killed at least 15 persons and wounded 40. A British seaman was reported among the dead.

Bodies still were being extricated from the debris today.

Among buildings wrecked was the Norwegian legation. However, it was not occupied at the time.

Ruth Cope Becomes 28th Dean of Women at College

The arrival of Miss Ruth Cope in Appleton to assume her duties as dean of women at Lawrence college brings to light the fact that Lawrence is the oldest co-educational institution in Wisconsin. Women have been admitted to classes at the college since its inception in 1847, and 27 preceptresses or deans of women have presided in the history of the institution.

Although Miss Cope has had 27 predecessors, actually she is the eighth dean of women, for it has been only since the turn of the century that the title of dean has been used, the ones before that time having been called preceptresses.

Scanning of early Lawrence catalogs reveal that several of the duties of the dean of women have changed as well as her title.

An early bulletin, that of 1859, made it very plain what the students were in college for "Full employment of that time in study and recitation is expected of every student." The women were classified as the "Female Branch" and the rules of the college were something to consider. "On no account may they go abroad into the fields, frequent the village, or collect at each others rooms without permission."

By 1882 the "Female Branch" had become the more dignified "Ladies Department," but the regulations were no less severe. The seventeenth catalogue (1886) finally dropped any attempt to classify, but had this to say about conduct on the Sabbath: "Church attendance both morning and afternoon is required." A student was allowed the privilege of choosing his church, however. "Brothers can walk out with their sisters by permission from some one of the faculty, but with no others."

In the same publication is found a proposed budget which lists among other items $1 for incidentals for the year which in itself must have had some limiting effect upon "courting." Of course it might have been possible to save some from the fuel allowance of $1.50 per season.

The change from the old type of discipline as exemplified in the early catalogues to the present day belief that confidence, counsel, and individual attention make toward a better adult has been slow but positive.

Forecast Cloudy Weather Friday

Higher Temperatures Due In Appleton Area Tonight, Tomorrow

Today's cloudy, unsettled weather will continue tomorrow, according to the weatherman, who forecasts higher temperatures tonight and tomorrow for Appleton and vicinity. Continued cool is predicted for the extreme southeast portion of the state and showers in the north.

Thin, cold drizzles of rain fell periodically yesterday afternoon and early evening, but only 0.3 of an inch of precipitation was recorded. For the 24-hour period preceding 9 o'clock this morning, the maximum temperature in the city was 59 and the minimum 42, according to readings at the power plant of the Wisconsin Michigan Power company. At 1:15 this afternoon, the thermometer atop the Post-Crescent building registered 60 degrees.

Phoenix, Ariz., was highest in the nation yesterday with 102 and Escanaba, Mich., and Wausau the lowest with 34.

The first will be 24 by 26 feet with a garage 12 by 20 feet. The home to be built at 1708 N. Clark street will be 32 by 26 feet and will cost $4,000 while the residence to be erected at 1712 N. Clark street will be 32 by 26 feet with a garage, 12 by 20 feet.

Slayer of Attorney Is Facing Mental Tests

Chicago—(AP)—The state's attorneys office asked mental tests today for a 36-year-old former convict who killed an attorney and stabbed another in their offices in adjoining loop buildings yesterday.

Assistant State's Attorney Mal Coghlan said the tests would be made to forestall any claim of insanity. Police Captain Patrick Collins said the prisoner, George L. Chichaverich, confessed the fatal shooting of former Judge Frederick W. Elliott and the stabbing of George L. Mason.

Mason was stabbed with a shoe-maker's awl a few minutes before Elliott was shot. Mason's wounds were not serious.

Chichaverich told Collins the attacks were the result of an argument over an attorney's fee in settling a $50,000 estate. Chichaverich's wife left him. The lawyers sued him when he refused to pay their bill of $5,600.

BEGINS DUTIES

The eighth dean of women at Lawrence college and twenty-eighth preceptress since the founding of the institution is Miss Ruth Cope, above, who has arrived to take over her new duties this fall. The title of dean of women has been used at Lawrence only since 1900, persons in charge of women's discipline previous to that date having been called preceptresses.

Chinese Retreat, Japanese Report

Nipponese Claim They Have Broken Foes' Center in North China

BY J. D. WHITE

Peiping—(AP)—Japanese reported today that the center of the Chinese battlefront in North China had been shattered and General Wan Fulin's Manchurian divisions were in full retreat.

Latest Japanese advices from the front 30 miles due south of here said the 100-mile long Chinese line had been split and its left wing was being driven to the west by repeated hammer blows from the pursuing Japanese.

Japanese headquarters described the advance as the greatest offensive undertaken by the Japanese army since the Russo-Japanese war.

The capture of General Wan's headquarters at Kuanghsien, just south of the Yungting river, was said to have exposed his right flank and threatened to fold up all the Chinese forces between Peiping and Tientsin.

The fall of Kuanghsien opened the way for a wide wheeling movement to the west along the highway from Peiping to Paoingfu, the Chinese general headquarters. Such a Japanese move would drive straight across the center of Hopeh province.

Japanese troops were pouring across the Yungting river. Some 60,000 were said to have taken part in the rout of the eight Chinese divisions—about 100,000 men—along the western 70 miles of the North China front.

Italy Must Make Next Move if She Joins in Patrol the undersea threat to European peace already menaced for 14 months by war on the Spanish peninsula.

Navy yard sailors worked day and night, loading tons of munitions on Britain's sleek fighters.

The job was completed in the early morning aboard four destroyers and one flotilla leader. Another four destroyers and another flotilla leader are expected to sail tomorrow with their deadly cargoes.

From one end of Britain to the other bases rushed to recondition the entire naval reserve fleet which will be held in readiness for emergency.

Preparations were concentrated on destroyers, minelayers, minesweepers, net layers and auxiliary vessels which are best fitted for the kind of naval warfare Britain expects.

Her heavy battleships and battle cruisers already were in fighting trim.

A squadron of Royal Air Force flying boats was poised at the Felixstowe base to take off tomorrow for Malta to be the "eyes" of Britain's pirate hunters. France already has ordered a huge aerial armada to Mediterranean duty. Bad weather forbade the takeoff from Felixstowe today.

Re-armament plans in the Lancashire area at Manchester, Salford, Oldham and Stockport were disrupted by a "children's strike." Seven thousand apprenticed youths quit work at aircraft plants in demands for 75 cents more pay each week.

Officials feared a serious delay in the filling of big government orders. Unless the strike were settled soon, many government orders would be delayed because no work was available without the apprentices.

While amassing a combined fleet of more than 150 warships in the Mediterranean, Britain and France waited for Italy to sue further standing in the patrol scheme.

The Rome government, on the other hand, had uttered its protest against the minor role offered by the nine powers that met at Nyon, and demanded parity, but, like Britain and France, was waiting tensely for someone else to make the next move.

THREAT TO AMITY

Rome—(AP)—The Nyon anti-piracy accord, a thorn in Italy's self-esteem as a Mediterranean power second to none, threatened today to puncture hopes for a revival of her close friendship with Great Britain.

Since the first fascist press outburst supporting Premier Mussolini's refusal to enter the nine-power patrol scheme to rid the Mediterranean of pirate submarines, Italy has waited in stony silence for Britain and France to make the first move to win Italian collaboration.

The Italian attitude as disclosed by various reliable sources today was that it duce had stated his minimum demands and was waiting to see if the other fellow wished to discuss them.

Italy in a sharp note to France and Britain, sponsors of the Nyon conference, protested "Tuesdays" against the minor assignment under the Nyon accord which would restrict Italy's part in the anti-piracy campaign to policing only the Tyrrhenian sea off her western coast.

Italy demanded a share in the patrol work equal to that of France and Britain, who ordered a combined armada of more than 150 warships into the Mediterranean proper as a guarantee against piratical attacks on commerce.

The feeling was expressed in political circles that Italy-British friendship talks, designed to heal the diplomatic scars left by Italy's conquest of Ethiopia, might still go on barring further increase in the Mediterranean tension.

Unemployment Census

Washington—(AP)—John D. Biggers, president of the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company, accepted today the job of administrator of the unemployment census.

The Toledo manufacturer told newspaper men after a conference with President Roosevelt he would continue to hold his private job but would devote most of his time to the unemployment census until it is completed.

More than 200 persons are expected to attend the dinner which will mark the anniversary of the signing of the constitution of the United States. Musical entertainment has been provided for at the dinner. Tickets now are on sale and may be had from William Strassburger in the First National bank. The affair is open to the public.

Senator Borah is scheduled to give a talk on the constitution over a national radio hookup this evening.

Chinese Say Air Bombs Sank Japanese Cruiser

Hong Kong—(AP)—The claim that a Japanese cruiser had been sunk by Chinese air bombs off the South China coast was made today in Chinese reports from Canton—unconfirmed from other sources—of two successful air attacks on Japanese naval units.

Three Chinese bombers and two pursuit planes, the reports said, attacked a Japanese cruiser, three destroyers and a torpedo boat off the port of Swatow.

"Three large bombs struck the cruiser, which sank," an unconfirmed Canton dispatch asserted.

A similar raid put to flight a group of Japanese destroyers along the coast between Swatow and Hong Kong, the Chinese said.

Chinese at Canton asserted Japanese have lost one cruiser, two destroyers and seven planes in South China while "there were no Chinese losses."

Two Special Sessions Planned in Michigan

Lansing, Mich.—(AP)—A source close to Governor Murphy said today the executive planned two special sessions of the legislature within the next half year, the first a one problem session this month to deal with labor relations.

The informant said he had interviewed Governor Murphy at length in Ann Arbor, where the governor is ill. "Governor Murphy told me" he said, "that he planned two special sessions of the legislature, one in late September or early October to deal with labor relations, the other after the first of the year to take up such matters as balancing of the budget and other legislation he wants to see approved."

call for the special session unless it appears there is likelihood that they can be disposed of within a reasonable time. It should be obvious therefore that the amount of business that we shall be able to complete will depend on the amount of work we are prepared to do and the spirit in which all concerned will work together."

A legislative delegation of five left late yesterday for Philadelphia to represent the state at the Constitution celebration. They are Senators O. S. Paulson (P), LaCrosse, and John Cashman (P), Denmark; Assemblywoman Mary Kryzak (D), Milwaukee, and Assemblymen A. J. Biemiller (P), Milwaukee, and James Cavanaugh (D), Antigo.

Text of Message

The text of Governor LaFollette's message to the legislature follows: "Prior to calling this special session I conferred with many members of the senate and the assembly. I did so to ascertain your wishes regarding the session and ways and means of expediting the public business."

"I believe it is correct to say that it was the general feeling among members of the legislature that it was in the public interest that the business before this session should be expedited and that this ought not to be an extended session."

"It was the consensus of opinion that the most immediate and pressing matter was making provision for state assistance for emergency relief. This is now before you for your consideration. There are other important matters that it would be desirable to act upon. But there would be no purpose in including them in the call for the special session unless it appears there is likelihood that they can be disposed of within a reasonable time. It should be obvious therefore that the amount of business that we shall be able to complete will depend on the amount of work we are prepared to do and the spirit in which all concerned will work together."

"I shall appreciate it if members of the legislature will confer with me freely during this session. It is my earnest desire to do my full part to make this session outstanding for its constructive achievement."

"I desire to extend my thanks to the many senators and assemblymen who have been so helpful with their advice and aid in working out the procedure and subjects for consideration for this special session."

Senator Borah is scheduled to give a talk on the constitution over a national radio hookup this evening.

Constitution Day Is Proclaimed by Governor

Madison—(AP)—Governor Philip F. LaFollette, proclaiming tomorrow as Constitution day, said today that in this era when democracy is under attack in other parts of the world "it is fitting that on the 150th anniversary of our constitution we should pay tribute to the fathers whose wisdom and genius gave us that instrument."

The state executive emphasized his declaration the constitution is "a living document" and that "it is important to understand what must be done in order to perpetuate the blessings we now enjoy because of constitutional government."

Subway Workers Vote Strike in New York

New York—(AP)—A subway strike threat faced New York today despite a warning by Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia that no interruption of transportation service would be permitted during the American Legion convention next week.

Day workers of the B. M. T. system, which operates subway and elevated lines in Brooklyn and Manhattan and employs 12,000 persons, voted last night to strike for a 12-cent-an-hour wage increase.

The date of the walkout was left to the officers of the Transport Workers' union, a CIO affiliate. Night workers at a meeting today also were expected to authorize a strike.

Mayor LaGuardia yesterday told union and company officials the dispute affected public convenience and welfare and urged them to submit their differences to immediate arbitration.

SHOOTS EX-JUDGE

George L. Chichaverich (above) 56, surrendered to police after fatally shooting a former Chicago municipal judge and stabbing another attorney. Former Judge Frederick W. Elliott succumbed to two bullet wounds, but George A. Mason was expected to recover from three slashes on the body.

out voting rights, when it was created originally in 1933 to handle the Sino-Japanese controversy in Manchuria.

Describing as ominous the growing importance of international trade in war materials, Hull said:

"Through every source of persuasion and in every act of policy within the limits of our established independent foreign policy, this government is exerting itself in the effort to safeguard against having the armament race eventuate into catastrophic war."

"Barring such a calamitous event, the constant increase in armament must be halted either by agreement or merely by exhaustion and mutual consent."

"I think that the maintenance of the most zealous insistence and emphasis upon economic questions may serve to bring nearer the time when the armament race can be halted. It should serve to awaken and to strengthen all of those in every country who are aware of the terrible sacrifices being required for armament."

Observers generally said the pronouncement constituted the most direct assurance yet proclaimed of this government's willingness to cooperate in a new armament limitations conference—provided it is convinced of the good faith of other world powers.

The employees are not members of a union. They met with the owners Tuesday night, demanded a 5-cent hourly increase in wages, and were refused. The shop at the present time is making all-steel bodies for telephone repair trucks.

Meat Is Tender if Properly Cooked, Kiwanis Club Told

Cutting Demonstration Features Meeting of Neenah Group

Neenah—Advising members of the Kiwanis club that his statement had better be confined only to the men, D. W. Hartzell of the dealers service division of a Chicago packing company, said that "all meat cuts are tender if cooked properly."

Mr. Hartzell made this statement of which he advised the Kiwanians not to make an issue with their wives while giving a meat cutting demonstration at the club's noon meeting at the Valley Inn Wednesday.

Resting on a table was a dressed lamb ready to be cut into the various divisions for sale purposes. Although the members were somewhat puzzled by the terminology of the butcher industry, they were entertained by the deftness of the cutter with a comparatively small knife and meat saw in dissecting the carcass.

Mr. Hartzell apparently would make a few stabs at the cadaver, twist it around a few times and with a final jerk produce a choice cut of meat which would be the envy of any butcher.

Explains Choice Parts Besides Praising the Quality and Benefits of Mutton the Meat Cutter Explained the Choice Parts of the Animal for Eating Purposes. The Forequarters are the Better Part of the Animal for Table Purposes, for That Section of the Carcass Contains an Abundant Supply of That Material Which Lends Flavor to the Meat, He Said.

Meat industries are preparing more boneless cuts of meat which are demanded by consumers. Styles, however, are one of the most important instruments in mass selling of meat, he added.

Tenderness ranks first with the consumers, and a housewife will demand tenderness over appearance and flavor, according to the demonstrator.

Mr. Hartzell also gave a meat cutting demonstration at the Neenah High school following his demonstration before the Kiwanians.

Club to Sponsor Trapshoot Event

Second Match of Series to Be Held at Park Sunday

Neenah—The second match in the Neenah Rod and Gun club trophy trapshooting event will be held at 1:15 Sunday afternoon at Lakeview park, Neenah.

John Lust, Oshkosh, won the first match last Sunday when he shattered 41 clay targets out of 50 shots at a distance of 20 yards.

Nearly 400 spectators watched last Sunday's shoot, and it is expected that more people will attend this Sunday's event. Two more matches for the club trophy will be held after Sunday's contest, with the winner of the most matches being awarded the trophy.

Harold Hauke, Neenah, took second place last Sunday when he broke 39 clay pigeons in 50 tries at a distance of 21 yards, while George Puth, Appleton, was third with 39 hits in 50 shots at 20 yards.

The annual shoot is a handicap event, handicaps being decided on past averages.

Book Three Bouts for First Wrestling Show

Neenah—Three bouts will comprise the first wrestling card of the season at the S. A. Cook armory next Wednesday night under the sponsorship of the Twin City Union club and arranged by William Erickson, who has succeeded Art Gutzmann as sports promoter.

The windup bout will feature Dave Reynolds of Salt Lake City, Utah, against a Mexican grappler, Jose Rodriguez. The match will be two out of three falls with a one hour time limit. The semi-final bout will have the same time limit with Ray Meyers of Louisville, Ky., meeting Tubby Reinhardt of Watertown, Wis. In the preliminary bout Larry Schaaf of New Haven, Ind., will oppose Chief White Cloud, Yakima, Wash., in one fall with a 30 minute time limit.

Weights of the wrestlers will be announced from the ring. The bouts will start at 8:30.

CCC Enrollment

Neenah—An enrollment of veterans in CCC camps during the first week in October has been announced by William H. Miller, Winnebago county service officer at Oshkosh. As some of the CCC camps are now closed, it is important that interested veterans file their applications early. Miller said.

The Twin Cities Office of the Appleton Post-Crescent for its editorial, circulation and advertising departments is located at 510 N. Commercial street and the telephone number is 4100.

Neenah Man Is Fined

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kraus, 539 Broad street, Neenah this morning at the Theda Clark hospital.

Postman Turns Hobby Into Prosperous Fur Business

Neenah—A former postman's hobby of trapping developed into a vocation in one of the state's leading fur industry when Andrew Wilz, route 1, Menasha, purchased four mink 12 years ago.

When he purchased the mink Wilz had no intention of becoming a mink farmer. When not carrying mail, he spent his time in the woods with his farm trapping rabbits, muskrats and mink. But he had no way of disposing of the carcasses of the animals he trapped after he had skinned them.

With his knowledge of wild animals he knew that mink liked flesh better than other kinds of wild life, and because they were small and hearty they would not be troublesome. So he bought the four mink.

Wilz began to take an interest in the slim, beautifully coated animals which he began to breed and raise them as a hobby. His collection of mink increased so rapidly that what started out to be an avocation developed into an industry for Wilz, until today he has more than 500 mink on his farm.

The mink farmer believes that the industry is rapidly becoming the leading fur industry in the state, supplanting the fox raising industry. Good pelts this fall should net at least $40 a piece, and mink coats, which require between 65 and 80 pelts to make, will retail at between $5,000 and $12,000.

When he bought his mink from a Minnesota doctor, Wilz had to construct nests in the shape of stumps with circling tunnels as passage ways, for the comparatively wild little animals would become temperamental and refuse to eat.

Now Domesticated

That is not the case today, however, for all of the mink have become domesticated and are comparatively tame. Although they cannot be handled with hands they jump into traps when called and recognize names which Wilz has given them.

Wilz has built the most up-to-date nests for his high priced animals and has himself invented a new type of nest in which the females may raise their young in cold weather. The nest has a chimney effect. It is divided into two compartments with the entrance in the floor of one compartment and the exit at the top of the other compartment. There is a slanting roof on the house.

The mature mink are caged in a wire meshed cage in which marsh grass is arranged so that when the mink enter the nests their fur will pick up the scent of the grass which tends to add to the lustre of the fur.

Hardy Animals

Wilz claims that mink are the hardiest of all wild animals and the average life of a mink is 12 years. He said, however, that so far he has had none of his menagerie die of old age.

All his mink are carefully pedigreed and selective breeding is maintained in order that the best fur may be had. The mink will be in new coats in November when they will be skinned. Until this year, however, Wilz has not sold any of his pelts. Because he has such an excellent breed of mink he has used them for breeding purposes only.

The mink breed in March and the kits are born in May. He declared that mink make the best mothers, giving all their strength to their young and refusing food until after the young have eaten. This lasts for nine weeks, however, when the young are taken away. The mother will kill its young after that time.

Yukon Dominates

The mink breed includes two kinds of breeds, Yukon and Eastern, with the Yukon breed dominating. The mink are fed horse flesh and fish, and now the Wisconsin conservation department is putting out a canned food for the dark brown colored creatures. It costs less than 3 cents a day to feed each mink.

Full-grown males weigh from three to four pounds, while full-grown females never more than two and one-half pounds.

Mink in the wild state are marvelous swimmers and neat fish catchers, but the mink on Wilz's ranch have never known water. They are not even given water in the winter, satisfying their thirst by eating snow. In the summer when the weather is exceptionally hot they must be supplied with a lot of water, however, and fresh water is kept in a drinking cup in which they cannot crawl into. They can just barely get their noses into the cup. Mink are kept out of water as well as sun because the elements make their pelts, thus do not make mink bring more money than the trapped animal.

Menasha Society

Menasha—Mrs. Lillian Campbell will give a report on the National Convention of American Legion and auxiliary units at the 7:30 Monday evening meeting of the Twin auxiliary in Eagles hall. The convention, held in Buffalo, N. Y., was held in August. Cards and other entertainment are planned during the social hour which is to follow the business session.

Plans for participation in the eighty-first anniversary celebration of the Trinity Lutheran church were discussed by members of the Good Fellowship club at a meeting Wednesday in the church. Discussion also was held on presentation of a dramatic skit in the near future. Recreation followed during the social hour.

Plans for fall and winter activity will mark the business session of the B. B. B. society Friday evening in First Congregational church. Miss Verda Gear is president of the group.

St. Patrick's sanctuary society will meet Friday evening in the school hall with a social hour following the business meeting.

Plans for the winter season will be outlined at the meeting of the Knights of Columbus lodge at their hall tonight. This is the first meeting after the summer recess.

4-H Club Softball Teams To Battle at Waushara

(Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau) Oshkosh—Winnebago county 4-H club boys have been challenged to a softball game by the championship Waushara team. R. C. Heffner, county agent, said today. The challenge has been accepted and the Winnebago team will journey to Waushara to play Friday morning, September 17. Appleton Pastor Named Moderator At Baptist Meet

Marinette Will Be Host to Next Meeting of Green Bay Association

Neenah—The Rev. R. H. Spangler, First Baptist church, Appleton, was elected moderator of the Green Bay Baptist association at the close of the 2-day session Wednesday evening in Whiting Memorial Baptist church, Mrs. Leslie Johnson, Neenah, was named clerk for the next annual meeting which is to be held at Beloit church, Marinette.

A flat indictment of Americans for their "utter indifference to their Christian missions, their preaching of the Christian religion but inability to live it and their too much materialism and too many wars" was voiced by Dr. F. W. Meyer, medical missionary to the Philippines in an address which climaxed the convention at the local church last night.

"Don't laugh at the Filipino for his pagan ideas. You have the most delicious set of superstitions I have ever known," said Dr. Meyer as he told of his work among the people in the islands.

Describes Hospital

Dr. Meyer told of the 75 bed hospital with which he is connected, of the nurses training school, of his staff, declaring that while he didn't particularly like figures he could give good ones if that's what people wished.

"I am interested in individuals and in reaching individuals," was his contention as he explained how he as a surgeon was able to reach many people with the message of Christ. "And we have Christians among the Filipinos. They aren't afraid to be Christians either, not as afraid as you are." Dr. Meyer related many of his friendships and related personal experiences among the leaders of the island, calling General Wood one of the best of the Filipinos that United States has ever had.

"What message can we bring these people? Is it our superior culture? No, the pompous superiority of the white man, be he American or British, is amusing. We must bring these people the Christ of the white man, the Christ who healed and gave his life in service to the Christ who said 'If you have faith, you can do even greater things than I have done.' We in America need that Christ too for we have lost the utter simplicity of those teachings. If the things I have said here today, hurt, I'm sorry but haven't any anesthetic with me. Don't be ashamed of your missions or your missionaries for if you do you are rejecting the very message and spirit of Christ."

Outlines Possible Route of New 41 Through Oshkosh

Keefe Tells Club Highway May Go Along North Western Right-of-Way

(Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau) Oshkosh—That Superhighway 41 may be routed through Oshkosh along the North Western right-of-way was the statement of Frank B. Keefe, Oshkosh attorney, at a meeting of the Oshkosh Booster club Wednesday.

He said the statement was based upon information he had from the Wisconsin Highway commission and intimated he had been told the present location of the Neenah overland already had been admitted as a "mistake."

When some dissatisfaction was expressed with the part of the highway already constructed, Keefe explained that only one 20-foot strip has been laid, and that a 150-foot right-of-way was being provided.

A letter was read by Ray Novotny, postmaster, who is president of the club, from Jay Putney, urging continued action on the Winnebago land plan.

F. H. Jebe, band director at the Oshkosh high school announced the Oshkosh band had been invited to play November 4, at the state teachers' convention at Milwaukee, which will have an estimated attendance of 8,500. Jebe said there was a possibility the Teachers' chorus from the Oshkosh State Teachers' college would accompany the band. Mr. Keefe stated the Winnebago land advertisement this year resulted in more tourists coming to the vacation area than could be taken care of, and urged additional accommodations.

Badger Potato Crop to be Near Normal This Year

Market Prospects Discouraging, State Experts Report

(Post-Crescent Madison Bureau)
Madison—Despite current reports, the Wisconsin potato crop this season will approximate normalcy, according to two experts here, but market prospects at present are far from reassuring.

Figures from W. H. Ebling, head of the crop estimates office of the state department of agriculture and editor of the Crop Reporter, show that on September 1 the approximate yield for the state was anticipated to be 24,200,000 bushels, compared with 20,900,000 bushels in 1936, and only 4 per cent below normal.

Ebling pointed out that the crop this year is generally late, making the danger of frost damage this month more acute than usual.

James Milward, professor of horticulture at the state university, and secretary of the Wisconsin Potato Growers association said that crop reports on potatoes in widely scattered areas in Wisconsin where they represent staples give a spotty picture, some areas reporting good quality and high yields, others reporting poor prospects.

Danger of Frost
 August 1 estimates have been reduced considerably the delayed growth caused by the drought and the consequent danger of frost damage, he said.

Waupaca county potatoes will be comparable to those grown in any other part of the state, he explained, especially in the northern townships of the county. Some farmers in the county, however, have suffered from the combined ravages of dry weather and disease.

While market prospects at present are discouraging, Wisconsin growers are hoping for an upturn, Milward declared.

On the other hand H. B. Tabb, Chicago, head of the National Potato Growers association, pointed to the huge national crop and its generally low quality as evidences of poor market conditions later this year. Yields throughout the potato growing states are considerably above normal, despite the fact that national acreage has been curtailed 3 per cent from last year, he declared.

Pegler Laughing About That Liberal 'Victory'

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York—Pardon me, friends, while I bust a few ribs laughing at our earnest, intellectual pals over there on the left, the ideology blokes who dusted off a spot on the floor and threw themselves a fit of jubilation over the appointment of Hugo Black to the United States supreme court as a great progressive victory.

Hugo, you remember, was one of those progressive statesmen of the new south like Senator Ellender, who helped Huey Long create his aimed dictatorship; Bibb Graves, the old kluxer who named his own wife to Black's seat in the senate; Theodore Bilbo who was given a $6,000 federal job clipping papers and magazines because his need of money was more urgent than that of the forgotten man, and Major George Berry, the millionaire labor leader and industrialist from Tennessee.

Hugo was going to liberalize the big court. Hugo had a broad mind and great intelligence, and it was a dirty outrage, by and large, that a little passel of wily traitors to the mandate of the last election made it impossible for Mr. Roosevelt to turn over five more rocks and discover five more like him to out-vote the ornery old reactionaries left over from the dark and ignorant past.

Well, maybe Hugo himself was a little bit crude around the edges, but he was Mr. Roosevelt's own selection and thus covered by the mandate and, anyway his innate progressiveness would more than compensate any professional judicial lack.

But now what's all this about Hugo Black's having been a member of the Ku Klux Klan in Alabama and his refusal, in the face of a plain accusation printed all over the country to say aye, yes or no or go to hell?

Would The 'Mandate' Wash Away Bigotry?

If he was a member of the Ku Klux Klan, pledged by an oath elaborated from the blood-curdling vows that little boys take on joining the secret six in a cave, to persecute minorities for religious and racial reasons, is he still the great progressive that he was a few weeks ago, and does the mandate wash away the bigotry?

True, that would have been 10 years ago, but Hugo was no child even then, and the character that was capable of joining such a conspiracy against the rights of other citizens, if Hugo did join, was set and hardened beyond change. And, granting that if he did join the Klan it was done only as a political ruse, how do you like having a man on the highest court in the country who was capable of taking the Ku Klux oath with all its talk of God, in a spirit of expediency, just to win a lousy political job? If a man can take an oath with his fingers crossed, might it not be a wise precaution to make him keep his hands in plain sight when he takes another, to uphold the constitution and administer justice impartially, and did anyone see to that when Hugo was sworn into the court?

And again, if he did join, a possibility which may reasonably be considered in view of his refusal to deny or admit that he did, what

Recent Rains Aid Late Farm Crops

Cabbage and Corn Being Cut; Potatoes Being Dug in Few Weeks

Late crops were immeasurably aided by the recent rains, according to R. C. Swanson, Outagamie county agricultural agent, who said today that a fair crop of cabbage is now being cut. Even with the helpful rain, the cabbage crop is not especially large in this county, he said.

The late potato crop, helped by the rains, will be dug in about three weeks. The crop is expected to be a good one. Late corn, however, is poor to fair in the county and many farmers are unable to fill their silos. The first crop of hay this summer was good and will offset the winter feed needs, County Agent Swanson said.

He cautioned farmers to wait until October before cutting the third crop of alfalfa as it will be less injurious to the roots. The roots need time to get nourishment to insure a good crop next year, he explained.

His bride was 14-year-old Audrey Mae Eden. They had to go to Iowa to be wed as Nebraska law sets the feminine marriage age limit at 16 even with parents' consent.

way in which his eyes had passed her by at the trail?

In her semi-conscious state, Kay's fears, for the moment, were dulled, but her love for Ted surged through her, overcoming for the moment her pride and resentment of his attitude toward her.

Perhaps, after all, he was in love with that girl, Marion Howell. But somehow, as he had told his story, Kay had felt that that part of it was impersonal, and that gratitude for having saved him was the keynote of Ted's feeling for this black-haired stranger, who had so tortured her thoughts.

Her eyes, gradually growing accustomed to the darkness, peered around her prison, and a sudden terror sent her leaping to her feet. Stumbling over to the door, she beat frantically against it, crying out until her throat was hoarse and parched.

Kay took a mighty grip on her self control, and forced down her panic. She must think! Think! Nothing but her wits could save her!

A memory of Josh Hastings' words that he had shouted back through the door in his parting rage flashed over her. What had he meant by saying that "he had used this place once before?" Kay shivered at the thought of the sinister, gloating tone in which he had said that. And his threat to come back! How soon would he make that good?

Kay groped her way around the cellar, feeling the damp walls, from the rough rafters overhead, to the floor.

Even though all attempt to escape was futile, anything was better than inaction. Systematically starting at one end, she examined her prison, bit by bit. The only air, apparently, came from a grating in the ceiling, which gave into a darkened room above.

Half way around the second wall, she pulled away a piece of scrap iron that seemed to be sticking out of an angle of the wall in a peculiar fashion, it was much longer than she had expected, and thrusting her hand into the hole that it left in the wall as she drew it away, her fingers encountered a smooth object that made her exclaim and draw back in sudden terror.

She steered herself to investigate, and put her hand in again. She drew out a smooth flat object, which turned out to be a small leather notebook. It might have been a diary or address book.

Exclaiming over her discovery, Kay held it close to her eyes and opened it, but strain as she would, she could make nothing out of the pages, which might, or might not have been merely blank.

A rasping of the key in the door startled her so that her find dropped to the floor, and was temporarily forgotten as she rushed for the dim streak of light that showed for a minute, as something was thrust inside the door. Before she could reach it, the door was slammed to without a word having been said and the key turned again. On the floor, when Kay got over to the door, she found a canteen of water and a loaf of bread.

With a strangled cry of rage, she snatched up the bread and would have flung it from her, but sober second thought stopped her.

If Josh Hastings really meant to starve her into submission, she needed every ounce of strength she could get. Deliberately she gulped down some of the bread with the aid of sips of water from the canteen, finishing as much as she could, then groped her way back to about where she had dropped the notebook. Feeling around on the floor, she finally found it, and slipped it in her pocket.

Then she settled down beside the old forge, leaned her head against it and determined to think her way out. But exhaustion, mercifully overtook her, and she dropped into a restless sleep.

How long she slept, Kay never knew, but she was finally roused by thinking she heard footsteps overhead. A startled scream broke from her as her fevered imagination, stung to the highest pitch by the nightmares that had been torturing her sleep, pictured the bulky form of Josh Hastings about to descend on her.

In answer to her scream, the footsteps rushed across the floor above, and the next instant, she heard Ted's voice calling her name in a hoarse subdued tone.

Certain now that she was still dreaming, Kay struggled to answer, but her voice died in her throat. That was the way it was with nightmares, she thought, desperately. You always tried to call out, and couldn't.

"Kay! Kay!" Again Ted's voice called, with its hushed but peremptory note. "Where are you? Answer me!"

This time, Kay's dumbness gave way to the joyful realization that she wasn't dreaming and that, incredible as it seemed, Ted was actually there.

"Here!" she called. "In the cellar. The door is locked."

"To hell with the door!" Another moment, and Ted was wrenching with an iron bar at the grating in the ceiling above Kay's head.

"Keep clear from below there!" he called, and Kay shrank back and waited, her heart beating a wild tattoo, and her breath coming fast through her parted lips.

There was a splintering sound, as the wood at last gave way, and

Warns Motorists Against Speeding In School Zones

Chief of Police George T. Prim today cautioned motorists to use extreme care in driving on city streets. He pointed out that schools in the city are open and many of the children will be crossing streets when they start and end sessions each day. Speed should be slackened when in school zones and persons found exceeding the speed limit will be arrested and fined, he warned.

The iron grating was torn loose. The next instant, there was a swish, as of a body slipping through the opening, and a thud on the floor. Kay stepped blindly forward and Ted's arms closed about her.

Ted and Kay plan to get Josh Hastings as they escape from Clear Water, tomorrow.

FOR THAT COUGH KEMP'S BALSAM

for drivers on CONCRETE

DRIVING through the night with your family, how much safer you feel when a concrete "ribbon of light" stretches out ahead!

Hazards stand out clearly against the light grey surface — shoulders, ditches, obstructions, pedestrians are clearly defined. Eye strain is reduced by the absence of glare.

Brakes are at their best on the gritty non-skid surface of concrete. Low crowns make the entire road width usable. Traffic doesn't hug the center of the road. You drive in comfort... relaxed. Every car is a better car on concrete.

Concrete's better visibility, safety and comfort are not luxuries because first cost of concrete is less than that of any other pavement of equal load-carrying capacity. Maintenance cost is far lower. And motorists save in gas, tires and car repairs on concrete.
